Western Diplomats Claim Enough Support to Pass Own Proposal

BY MAX HARRELSON

United Nations, N.Y. —

An influential group of Asian and African countries prepared today to counter a western-backed Middle East peace plan with a new resolution calling for the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Western diplomats insisted they had enough votes to win approval for their own proposal in the emergency U.N. general assembly. But there were signs they were worried by the new developments.

Informal sources said Secretary of State Dulles had cancelled plans to return to Washington this afternoon.

He conferred with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd this morning and scheduled a meeting with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville this afternoon.

Seeking Support
The United States was understood to be trying hard to win support of five or six Latin American delegates who were holding out against the 7-nation western resolution, authored by Norway.

The western plan makes no specific mention of the withdrawal of U.S. and British forces from Lebanon and Jordan. It leaves to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld the task of working out arrangements in the two countries in accordance with the principles of the U.N. charter.

The Asian-African move was spearheaded by India's Arthur Lall, Sir Claude Corea of Ceylon and Indonesia's Ali Sastroamidjojo. A committee met this morning on the new proposal and a full meeting

Yugoslavia Asks U.S. for Aid After Soviets Withdraw

Washington — Communists Yugoslavia is asking for additional American economic aid to finance a number of industrial projects that were to have been paid for out of loans from the Russians.

The Russians canceled some $285 million in promised loans last May in a crackdown move against Yugoslav President Tito, who follows a course independent of Moscow control.

Officials said last night the Yugoslav government has turned to the United States with a petition for $250 million to pay for construction of new power stations and fertilizer plants, railroad modernization and some highway equipment.

Make Last Effort to Revive Housing Bill

Washington — Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today groups of senators and house members were making last-minute efforts to revive an omnibus housing bill.

A stripped-down house version of the legislation failed to pass yesterday although the vote was 251-134 in favor of the measure. It was brought up under a procedure requiring a two-thirds vote.

This was generally interpreted as the death blow for housing legislation this session.

Union Heads Say 'Business' Sank Labor Bill

See Attempt for Sterner Control Measure Next Year

BY NORMAN WALKER

Forest Park, Pa. —

Several labor union chiefs said today business interests helped sink a labor control bill in congress to push for sterner measures next year.

The house of representatives yesterday killed a senate-passed labor bill, apparently ending the last chance for such legislation at this session.

AFL-CIO leaders, meeting here, had urged its passage, saying they believed the interests of the public and "the decent element in the labor movement and management" thus would be served.

Blame NAM

In the wake of the house action, various AFL-CIO chiefs put major blame for defeat of the bill on the National Association of Manufacturers and U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

These members of the labor federation's executive council said the same management groups likely will seek stronger legislation next year—legislation that, from labor's viewpoint, would hamstring unions.

A somewhat similar charge was voiced yesterday by Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), a co-sponsor of the senate bill killed in the house. Ives said a lot of house members "were misled by false propaganda" from the NAM, the chamber of commerce, the American Retail Federation, the Teamsters union and the United Mine Workers.

Called Inadequate
NAM President Milton C. Lightner has said his organization opposed the bill on the ground it was inadequate to deal with union abuses. Lightner also contended the bill would weaken safeguards in the Taft-Hartley act.

There was no immediate comment by the others mentioned.

The AFL-CIO position officially was that while the senate-passed measure was far from perfect it represented a forward legislative step in helping curb labor corruption.

The bill among other things would have required detailed reporting to the government of union finances. It also would have required secret balloting for union officers and would have limited their terms.

Tax Will Increase
At the same time, the payroll tax on covered workers and employers will go up from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent starting Jan. 1, and the taxable wage base will be increased from $4,200 to $4,800 a year.

The increase will mean mean higher pay check deductions to covered workers, the amount rising from $94.50 to $120 a year.

For retired workers now on benefit rolls, new higher monthly payments will range from $33 to $118 as compared with $30 and $108.50 at present.

The maximum family benefit will go up from $200 to $234 a month.

For covered workers not yet retired, but who will come onto the benefit rolls in the future, the range of benefit payments from new increases in the tax and wage base will be from $33 to $127 a month.

135 Killed in Iran Earthquake

Tehran, Iran — Earthquakes in mountainous western Iran have killed 135 persons, a spokesman for the Red Lion Sun Relief organization said today.

More than 45 villages were severely damaged around Nehavend and between Kermanshah and Hamadan, which lie about halfway between Tehran and Baghdad.

Court Tells Little Rock To Resume Integration

New Ruling Sets Aside 2 1/2-Year Delay Provided For by District Judge

Three Members of One Family died when thousands of pounds of granite spilled from a toppling truck and crushed their car. Robert Jacobs, 5, Syracuse, N. Y., was killed in the car. His mother, Estelle Jacobs, 28, was thrown clear and crushed by a boulder. Scott Jacobs, 1, died later in a Syracuse hospital. The truck driver also was killed. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Louis — Resumption of integration at Little Rock's Central High school was ordered yesterday by the eighth U. S. circuit court of appeals. Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus promptly moved to fight it, possibly through a special legislative session.

The court, in a 6-to-1 decision, set aside a ruling of U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., which would have provided a 2 1/2 year "breathing spell" after a tense

Little Rock by a week from Wednesday. The appeals court decision came just 16 days before school is scheduled to re-open at Central High.

Little Rock School Supt. Virgil Blossom said the school board would make an all-out fight to prevent seven Negro students from reentering Central.

But an attorney for the school board, Richard C. Butler, said he did not know whether an appeal could be considered by the U. S. Supreme Court before the Sept. 2 opening of school. The high court is in recess until Oct. 6.

The school board could ask the appeals court to stay its order pending review by the supreme court. If the stay is granted, Judge Lemley's order would continue in force after the start of the school term.

Southerners Bitter
In congress, southerners bitterly attacked the decision. "It is rather tragic that the circuit court of appeals has wholly disregarded the welfare of both races and the will of the people," said Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

And, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) said it appeared that "judicial tyranny in this country is running rampant over local self-government."

Among supporters of civil rights, Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said he hoped Little Rock

Woman Says Taxi Operator Got Ransom Money

Washington — The former wife of Robert (Barney) Baker swore today he once told her that Joseph Costello, St. Louis taxi line operator, "got the Greenpeace money, and that's why he tried to kill himself."

"I may get killed for telling," Mrs. Mollie Baker, divorced wife of Teamster official Baker, said.

The woman was in the witness chair of the senate racketeers investigating committee. The committee had hinted last week that it might produce some sensational testimony about the $300,000 that has never been recovered from the $600,000 ransom paid in 1953 by the parents of Little Bobby Greenpeace of Kansas City, who was kidnapped and slain.

Wisconsin — Partly cloudy with a few scattered showers today and over the southeast portion early tonight. Mostly fair and a little cooler over the northwest portion tonight and over all of the state Wednesday. High temperatures today will range from the 70s northwest to the 80s elsewhere and low temperatures tonight from the upper 40s north to the upper 50s south.

Consider Calling Grand Jury Probe

Would Investigate Fire Death Of Teamster Agent Kierdorf

Detroit — Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams and three prosecutors today considered calling a grand jury to investigate the mysterious fire death of Teamsters Business Agent Frank Kierdorf and the burning of a dry cleaning establishment.

They set up their meeting for the office of Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor Samuel Olsen. With Adams were prosecutors Jerome O'Rourke of Genesee county and Frederick Ziem of Oakland county.

The meeting, an effort to link the two incidents with eight dynamite explosions at Detroit business establishments since January, came on the heels of the surprising appearance of the long-sought Herman Kierdorf.

Passed Lie Test
Herman, 68, himself a former Teamsters union business agent, passed a lie detector test yesterday, less than 24 hours after he voluntarily surrendered to police.

Although Herman still refused to talk about many facets of the case—including his whereabouts for the 13 days he was missing—he agreed to discuss three questions for the lie detector.

He said he had no prior knowledge of the burning of the dry cleaning establishment at Flint, Mich., that he was not on the scene, and that he did not help take the critically burned Frank to a hospital.

Refuses Comment
Ass't. Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said, "he passed with flying colors."

Herman had been missing since Aug. 4, the day Frank appeared at a Pontiac hospital with burns over 85 per cent of his body. Frank, 56, died four days later.

After 90 minutes of questioning yesterday, Adams said Herman still refused to say anything about his activities after midnight, Aug. 3—the approximate time Frank was burned and the dry cleaning establishment was set on fire.

He also answered "no comment" on the advice of counsel" when asked why Teamsters President James R. Hoffa told him to resign his Teamsters job after he testified before the senate racketeers committee.

Johnson Backs Bill to Modify Court Rulings

Washington — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) threw his support today behind a pending bill to modify the impact of the supreme court's ruling against delays in arraignments of arrested persons.

"I favor it," the senate majority leader told reporters, "and in my opinion it will be passed."

He said he hoped the bill would not be amended and that the senate would vote after reasonable debate.

"The judiciary committee gave it careful consideration," Johnson said, "and it was carefully considered by the Democratic policy committee."

The fight revolves around the issue of what constitutes a reasonable delay in arraignment.

4 Admit Driving While Drunk

Man Who Stole Station Wagon Hits Nurse at Hospital

Three men and a woman admitted drunken driving charges today in municipal court.

They are Beverly A. Blohm, 19, route 3, Appleton; Raymond G. Hoier, Jr., 19, route 1, Hortonville; Elmer Davis, 34, Madison; and Henry F. Fox, 44, 1307 W. Third street, Kaukauna.

Davis was arrested by county police Saturday afternoon after he smashed a stolen station wagon by skidding it past a stop sign at Highway 54 and County Trunk PP. Davis later at Appleton Memorial hospital became unruly and hit a nurse. Davis stole the station wagon in Madison to visit his family in Shawano.

He has served 2-year terms in Green Bay reformatory and Waupun prison for auto thefts.

Faces Madison Charge
He was fined $200 and sent to the county jail for 75 days when he could not pay the fine. He faces an auto theft charge from Madison police when he is released.

Hoier was arrested by state police after they clocked him at 92 miles an hour shortly before 11 o'clock Friday night on a mile north of Highway 76 on

Two Rivers Trying To Pull County Seat From Under Manitowoc

Two Rivers — Two Rivers is attempting to pull the Manitowoc county seat right out from under Manitowoc.

The Two Rivers city council voted unanimously Monday night to offer the county a number of inducements to move out of Manitowoc and set up permanent residence here.

Lures dangled before the county board of supervisors include free sites for a court house and other government buildings, free off-street parking, free engineering, traffic and parking studies and possible joint financing of the construction cost of some of the buildings.

Groton, Conn. — The Triton, the world's largest known submarine, was launched into the windswept Thames river today—and her future was plotted in advance as a tracker of any enemy force.

Sunny skies, regarded as a good omen in this old seafaring port, martial music and a roar from some 32,000 spectators—a local record—marked the historic launching.

Largest Crowd
Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander in chief of the U.S. Atlantic fleet, hailed the giant radar picket submarine as a "nuclear propelled, invisible, electronic brain" to be used for keeping tabs on any enemy.

As the Triton slid easily down the ways, an arresting gear was used to keep the twin-reactor submarine from ploughing a half-mile across the river into the mud of New London.

The Triton was cheered by the largest crowd ever to see a launching at the General Dynamics Corp.'s Electric Boat division yards—the same place where the famed Nautilus was launched in 1954.

The Triton's skipper, Capt. Edward A. Beach, the square-jawed hero of Pacific warfare in World War II, rode his ship on her maiden trip, along with his crew and the usual shipyard workers.

Mrs. John M. Will, wife of the vice admiral who is head of the military sea transportation service, was the sponsor.

She scored a perfect hit with the champagne bottle.

Wright, who is also NATO's supreme allied commander, Atlantic, said the Triton would use her nuclear power plant "to strengthen and improve our existing atomic delivery capability."

He said at launching ceremonies that the Triton would be in the forefront of "our atomic strike fleet."

"Her high underwater speed and long endurance given her by her twin nuclear reactors will enable her to remain submerged undetected and to penetrate deep into the sea areas adjacent to the enemy coast," he said.

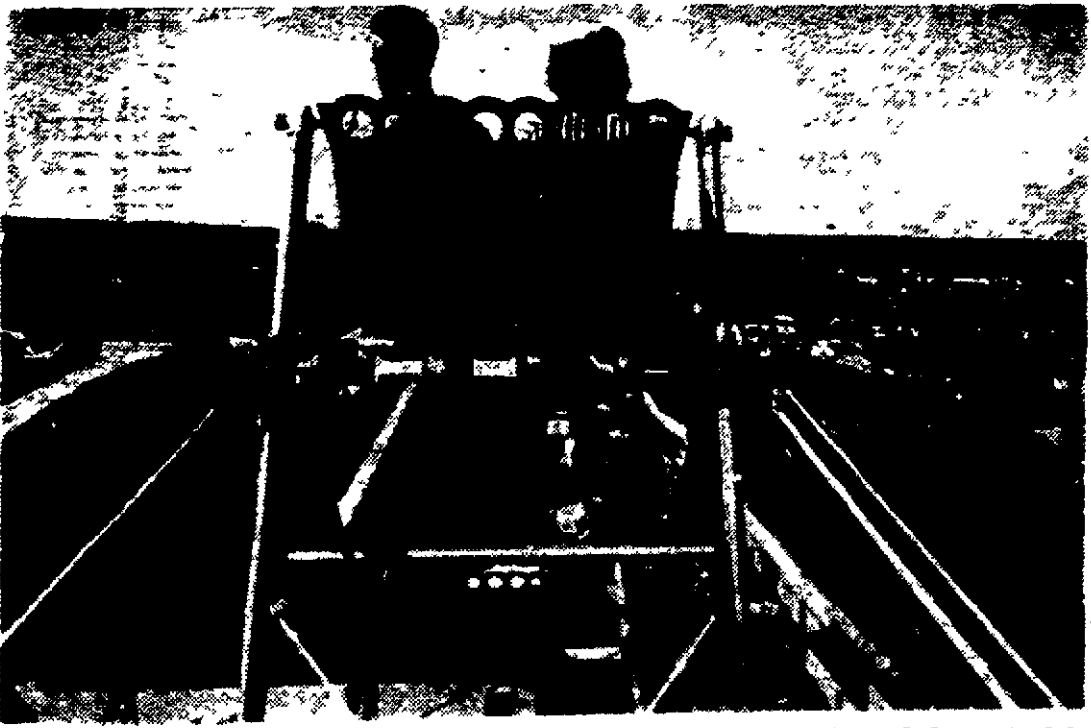

"Here she will surface only enough to bring her detection and directing radars above the water to warn our atomic striking force of approaching attack and direct our interceptors against it."

Southerners Defeated in Two Civil Rights Issues

7-Month Fight Lost When Senate Confirms Nomination of Lawyer; Hot Reaction to Court Decision

Washington — (AP) — Southern Democratic senators licked their wounds today after two setbacks on the civil rights battleground.

They lost a 7-month fight when the senate confirmed W. Wilson White, a Philadelphia lawyer, as assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights. The vote was 56-20.

The southerners have opposed White since his nomination last January. But the debate was all the hotter because it followed news that the federal appeals court in St. Louis had overruled a district judge and ordered resumption of racial integration this fall at Little Rock Central High school.

Hot Reaction
Reaction to the appeals court decision was hot. Southern senators rushed out with statements denouncing it as "judicial tyranny" and describing it as tragic.

Some of the sharpest language of the fast-fading session of congress was used in the debate against White and against President Eisenhower's use of troops last year to enforce court-ordered school integration at Little Rock.

Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) likened use of federal troops in Little Rock to Russian repressions in Hungary. There, he said, "armed force and bayonets were used to bend a people to the will of alien ideas, thereby forcing on them a new social structure."

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) accused White of having mixed politics with law and said "it is obvious that he promoted the use of troops and prejudiced his advice in this direction."

This was a reference to White's role in directing preparation of legal papers on which Eisenhower based his Little Rock troop action. At the time, White was an assistant attorney general serving as legal adviser to former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

Last Resort

Testifying earlier this year at a judiciary committee hearing on his nomination, White said troops were used as a last resort "to set down mass defiance" of a court decree.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) said White either lacks understanding of constitutional law "or else his bias in favor of racial integration is so strong that he is able to overlook the law."

Defending White, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) recalled that the senate twice before had confirmed him for other federal posts. Watkins said nothing has developed to change the senate's past conclusion that White is qualified for positions of public trust.

In the end, 20 Democrats and 38 Republicans voted for White's confirmation. Republican Sens. John J. Williams of Delaware and Milton R. Young of North Dakota joined 18 Democrats in opposition.

Joyriders Admit Holdup In Wisconsin

Donaldsonville, La. — (AP) — Two men who went joyriding in a Mississippi river ferry boat were linked today with a Wisconsin service station holdup.

Sheriff Percy Hebert identified the men as Francis Pytkola, 23, of Park Falls, Wis., and Godfrey Meyer, 27, of La Crosse, Wis. They were arrested while hitchhiking after the boat was found last night tangled in a clump of willow trees along side a levee.

Hebert said the men admitted taking the boat at Reserve, 37 miles downstream, and riding it up and down the Mississippi before abandoning it. He said the men also admitted the $135 robbery of a filling station Aug. 12 at Onalaska, Wis.

Held Without Charge
The men were held without charge while being questioned.

When Leon Abadie, the ferry boat operator, reported yesterday to start his usual run to the Cross river terminus of Edgard, 40 miles up the river from New Orleans, he found his boat missing, but there was an old car at the Reserve landing.

Abadie recalled he had seen two men riding in the car Saturday and Sunday. At that time the car bore Wisconsin license tags, but they were missing yesterday.

Car Stolen
Wisconsin authorities said the car had been stolen in the holdup. The two men said they had borrowed the car.

The ferry, similar to a cabin cruiser, was 27 feet long and 12 feet wide. It was found after a woman reported she had seen it heading up the Mississippi.

Scientists Using State in Certain Gravitation Tests

Cornucopia, Wis. — (AP) — Scientists using Wisconsin as a starting point are trying to find out if the varying thickness of the earth's crust can be correlated with variations in the pull of gravity in different parts of the world.

Robert Meyer, a geologist at the University of Wisconsin, headed a team of scientists that set off 10 tons of explosives in Lake Superior and made seismographic readings of the shock waves produced by the blasts. The final explosion was set off Monday.

Meyer explained that though it will take months to properly interpret the readings taken at several locations, scientists do know that there are wide variations in the thickness of the earth's hard shell. They believe this may determine the varying force of gravity, but so far have been unable to establish any definite relationship between the two factors.

The project is under the sponsorship of the U. S. National Committee of the International Geophysical Year. The IGY group hopes to take a sum total of all information received from various studies and learn more about how continents are formed.

Meyer's group started its work on Aug. 1. About 40 explosive charges were dropped into Lake Superior at different times and depths. The shock waves of the explosions were recorded at observation points set up in Douglas, Ashland and Bayfield counties.

Senate Sends Farm Bill to White House

Expect Eisenhower To Sign Measure After Quick Action

Washington — (AP) — A farm bill that got rush treatment was White House bound today amid predictions it will be signed by President Eisenhower.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture committee said he was reasonably certain Eisenhower would sign the bill, which the Senate passed by voice vote Monday night. The House passed it last week.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who supported most of the bill's provisions, indicated earlier that the president would sign the measure if it gained passage.

Prevent Cutoff
The measure would prevent a sharp cutoff in planting of cotton and rice, allow corn farmers to rid themselves of all planting controls, and extend for three more years a subsidy program for domestic wool growers.

Another provision — which the administration especially likes — would permit lower government price supports on cotton, rice, corn and other livestock feed grains.

"Although the bill is not all the administration sought, it is based on the sound principle that a wide range of price supports will lead to expanded markets for this nation's abundant agricultural products," Benson said in a statement.

The senate acted speedily

Two-Ton Boulders From Truck Kill 4

Syracuse, N. Y. — (AP) — A woman and her two small sons were killed yesterday by 2-ton boulders that bounced from a truck hurtling down a hill near here. The truck driver also died.

The woman's husband and small daughter were injured. Both were reported in fair condition at a hospital.

One boulder smashed the automobile of Harry Jacobs, 31. Two others crushed his wife, Estelle, 31. She was thrown from the car when it was struck by the dump truck, police said.

The truck spun off, then skidded on its side and jammed between a telephone pole and an iron utility pole. Albert Stone, 40, of Carthage, died in the smashed cab.

Jacobs, his two sons, Robert, 6, and Scott, 1, and his daughter, Bonnie, 4, were trapped in the car. Rescuers used cranes and jacks to free them.

Monday night in handling the bill.

Ellender said the House version was generally similar to the original Senate bill. He promised consideration next year for stronger legislation dealing with wheat and livestock feed grains.

Farm Surplus
Benson said it was his understanding congress would act on two other pieces of farm legislation before it quits.

One would extend the farm surplus disposal act for two years with $4 billion dollars in additional authority for overseas sales and gifts of farm surpluses.

The second bill was one pending in the Senate and calling for state participation in aid programs for farmers hit by natural disasters.

Sgt. Clifford E. Vanlandingham, left, Germantown, Ohio, and Capt. R. E. Wilson, New Carlisle, Ohio, combined to rescue a paratrooper who became tangled in his static line and dangled behind a flying boxcar Monday. After Vanlandingham discovered the man, Pvt. David L. Kreger, Dennison, Ohio, Capt. Wilson had other crewmen haul the trooper back into the plane. After treatment, the trooper was released from the hospital. (AP Wirephoto)

Breast Cancer Theory Explained by Surgeon

Brings Up Gland Removal as Means Of Virtually Knocking Out the Disease

BY KENNIE TAYLOR

Associated Press Science Writer

Aboard SS Matsonia — (AP) — A way of virtually knocking out breast cancer as a cause of death has become a possibility in the not too distant future even though no blanket cure is in sight.

The idea is based on the simple arithmetic of breast cancer fatalities and consideration of what surgery can do. It postulates that women past the child-bearing age would free themselves of the danger of breast carcinoma by having the milk glands removed from their breasts even though there is no indication of malignancy. This would mean extraction of about half the bulk of the tissues within the breasts, but not the removal or destruction of the breasts themselves. It also would serve as a start toward reshaping breasts for aesthetic reasons.

A surgeon who neither approved nor disapproved the idea brought it to light Monday in discussing the future of medicine before a group of about 50 doctors from all over the United States.

He is Clarence Berne, professor of surgery at the University of Southern California medical school. His talk was part of a unique medical refresher course conducted by USC aboard this liner en route to Los Angeles from Honolulu.

Plain statistics show that one out of every five cancer deaths among women is due to breast malignancy. In a great majority of cases breast cancer originates in the milk gland tissue. Also, most breast cancer occurs in older women, usually those past childbearing age. It follows logically that elimination of the site of origin automatically would deal a substantial if not an actual knockout blow to breast carcinoma.

Physiologically, women would lose only a few ounces of tissue which no longer is biologically useful. The removal of the milk gland would not affect femininity or the endocrine balance, Dr. Berne said.

"The application of this procedure will be feasible when reconstructive surgery can do the operation without disfigurement," he went on. "This is a challenge to develop a surgically desirable way of replacing the lost tissue."

Sleeping Sickness in Japan, Korea May Be At Epidemic Level Soon

Tokyo — (AP) — Deadly sleeping sickness — encephalitis — is on the rise again in Japan and Korea, and welfare officials say it may reach epidemic proportions in the next months.

The welfare ministry today reported 352 known cases in Japan this year, of which 42 died. In the past two weeks in South Korea there have been 297 cases reported, of which 71 died.

The most severe epidemic in Japan occurred in 1956, when 1,574 of 4,330 cases died. Local authorities were urged to concentrate on inoculation programs and eliminating mosquitoes, which carry the disease.

Chicago Board Saves Wright-Built House From Destruction

Chicago — (AP) — Robie house, designed and built by Frank Lloyd Wright in 1906, was saved from destruction by the Zoning Board of Appeals Monday.

The board voted to rezone another lot in the same block for use as a site of a dormitory of the Chicago Theological seminary.

Robie house had occupied the seminary's only land in the area which, under previous zoning restrictions, could be used for the dormitory construction.

Labor Legislation Killed By Congress

House Votes Down Kennedy-Ives Bill; Battle Shaping Next Year

Washington — (AP) — Labor legislation apparently is dead for this session of congress. But signs point to another battle over the issue next year.

The last hope for enactment of such legislation this year faded Monday when the house voted 190-198 to kill the Kennedy-Ives bill aimed at curbing corruption in labor union activities.

Failed by 69 Votes
The measure failed by 69 votes to muster the two-thirds majority needed to win passage.

Wiley, Proxmire Support White's Confirmation

Washington — (AP) — Here is how Wisconsin senators and representatives voted Monday on major legislation before Congress:

Sensors Alexander Wiley (R) and William Proxmire (D) voted with the majority as the Senate confirmed W. Wilson White's nomination as assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights.

On the general labor bill defeated in the House, Democrats Lester Johnson, Henry Reuss and Clement Zablocki and Republicans Alvin O'Koniski and Gardner Withrow voted for the bill. Opposing it were Republicans John Byrnes, Melvin Laird, Donald Tewes and William Van Pelt.

age under special procedure. Some of the opposition apparently stemmed from the restrictions permitting little debate and prohibiting amendments.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sen. Irving Ives (R-N.Y.), passed the senate 88-1 two months ago.

Kennedy and Ives denounced the house action. Kennedy said "only Jim Hoffer (president of the Teamsters union) can rejoice at his continued good luck." Hoffer has been the target of corruption charges before the senate rackets investigating committee.

The young Massachusetts senator promised a renewed fight at the 1959 session of congress opening in January.

"Constructive labor reform legislation will definitely be brought forward again next year," Kennedy said. "In the meantime, those who defeated this bill will bear a heavy responsibility for the labor racketeering that will continue unchecked."

Ives, who is retiring at the end of this year, said defeat of the senate-passed bill is an open invitation to criminals to make the most of their chances in the labor-management field.

New Moves
Kennedy wasn't the only one to suggest a new move for labor legislation in 1959. Some members who favor a tougher bill said they would be back for battle, too.

Supporters of the Kennedy-Ives bill said it would insure protection for the rights of rank and file union members. Opponents labeled it an ineffective measure which they contended would weaken provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

State Man Describes Horror of His Ordeal With Gun-Toting Deaf-Mute

Macon, Ga. — (AP) — Laverne Boeck, 29, of Janesville, Wis., said Monday it was a "horrible, unbelievable" feeling to see a gibbering, gun-toting deaf-mute come out of the darkness and demand his automobile.

Parram Youngblood, 32, of Toombsboro, Ga., the deaf-mute, was shot to death

Monday, either by his own hand or during an exchange of gunfire with police. He was sought in the slaying of a 7-year-old Georgia girl, whose body was found Monday.

Surprised Them
Boeck, his family, his brother-in-law, John Brown, and Brown's family were held at gunpoint Sunday night by Youngblood. The two families were traveling in two cars from their Wisconsin homes to Palmetto, Fla., where they have purchased a trailer court.

They stopped on U. S. 41 to consult a road map when the deaf-mute former convict surprised them. "I was standing by Brown's car and looking at the map when a car pulled up and stopped across the highway from us," Boeck said. "Then this guy comes running toward us, a flashlight in his left hand, a revolver in his right, and mumbling."

He said at first he believed Youngblood wanted him and his brother-in-law to get into Youngblood's car.

"I told my brother-in-law that, and we started toward the other car. It was then that he really went off his rocker, and I was afraid he was going to start shooting."

Boeck said Youngblood fi-

"As soon as we had gotten them out of the car, he, Youngblood, jumped into my car and took off north," Boeck said.

Second Auto
In the second auto with Brown were his wife, a son, Leroy, 18, and a daughter, Shirley, 16, Boeck said that as soon as Youngblood left they got into Brown's car and drove to an inn and called police.

Authorities said Youngblood took four youngsters to a drive-in Sunday night, but forced three of them from the car and drove off with Margie Jones of Melvin, Ky. Her body was found in a field Monday. She had been shot twice with a rifle.

Annual Report Shows Gains in Premium Income

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — No less than two persons out of three now living in Wisconsin have some form of health and accident insurance coverage, the state department of insurance disclosed. Its annual report has included a boom in health and accident policy sales as a highlight of 1957 insurance experience in the state.

As it has for many years, the insurance industry on the whole showed another healthy gain in premium income last year, 6.6 per cent over the previous year.

Total premium income for fire, casualty and life lines was put at $597 million and total incurred losses for the year in the state at $271 million.

Health and accident line has swiftly mounted in importance during the last decade, and now ranks second in premium income, below life insurance premium income.

Health Premium
 Department officers estimated that the health and accident premium income of $118,000,000 reported for the year was sufficient to cover under typical contracts about 2,500,000 of the residents of the state.

Life insurance premium income for the state was put at $224 millions, a gain of slightly more than 7 per cent over the preceding year, and automobile insurance brought premium income of slightly less than $100 million, for third ranking in gross income last year.

Both individual and group contracts in the health and accident field have shown steady gains in recent years but group premium income is about twice as high as that accounted for by individual contracts.

Multiple Peril
 Another highlight of the report was disclosure of a 60 per cent premium gain for multiple policies issued to homeowners under a new Wisconsin law.

In transmitting his report to Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, Commissioner Paul Rogan said the agency collected about $700,000 in taxes and

About 250 Young People from over the state gathered at Trinity Lutheran church Monday for a 3-day Luther league convention. Shown as they register, from left in the upper photo, are Carol Levenson and Karen Marks, both of South Beloit; Eleanor Wehrenberg and Ruth Borchardt, both of Appleton; the Rev. Robert Gartz, formerly of Appleton and now pastor of Reformation Lutheran church, Milwaukee; and Shyla Gitter, Appleton. In the lower photo, David Schuster, 1200 N. Lawe street, second from left, meets two delegates who'll be staying with his family during the parley. While Jan Luebke, 1223 W. fees from carriers during the year.

Loss ratios for some lines were higher in 1957 he said, adding:

"While the underwriting results for some segments of the industry were not favorable on a nationwide basis, I am happy to report that the underwriting results in Wisconsin were much better than the nationwide averages."

Azores Volcano Renews Activity

Horta, Azores —(P)— New violent activity of the Capelinhos volcano off Fayal island caused apprehension among Horta's population Monday.

The volcano formed a new island off Fayal coast nearly a year ago, forcing evacuation of hundreds of families. After sporadic activity the volcano is erupting violently again, belching blocks of basalt more than 1,000 feet into the air and

26 Killed in Pennsylvania

Weekend Death Toll Sets Record for Death on Highways

Pittsburgh — (P)— Death stalked Pennsylvania highways over the weekend. In all, 26 persons were killed since Friday afternoon in a rash of traffic accidents unsurpassed in recent years in western Pennsylvania.

In eastern Pennsylvania three traffic deaths were reported, making the state weekend total 29, a new high for 1958.

The previous high of traffic deaths recorded in Pennsylvania for this year was 19 over the Memorial day weekend.

Eighteen persons were killed on state highways last weekend, including six members of a Pittsburgh family spanning four generations.

A weekend of fine weather brought out heavy road traffic. Authorities said they were pouring incandescent lava from its central crater.

Ashes have fallen on Pico island, four miles away, and there are constant earthquakes. At night the entire island of Fayal is lit by the volcano's glare.

Hundreds of Portuguese and foreign tourists are flocking to Fayal to see the spectacle. Crops which had been resown after the first destructive phase of the eruptions are once more covered with ashes.

The Portuguese government, which has given large subsidies for the rehabilitation of the island and construction of hundreds of destroyed houses, promised further aid to the stricken islanders.

at a loss to account for so shocking a death toll.

Death was unmerciful, claiming 15 persons in three accidents alone, five in each.

It took the lives of young and old, of service station operator and business executive, of marine and airman, of a newlywed.

Death wiped out four members of one family.

Two autos collided head on yesterday on route 21 near Masontown, Pa., killing five persons, including three young girls—13, 14 and 15. Two of the girls were sisters. All of the victims were from Masontown, which is about 60 miles southeast of Pittsburgh.

A Pittsburgh man and his wife and two of their children en route to a Canadian vacation were killed Saturday in a 2-car collision on Route 8 near Butler, Pa., about 40 miles north of Pittsburgh. The driver was a newlywed.

Court Tells Little Rock To Resume Integration

citizens would actively support authorities in carrying out integration. Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) said the decision "points up more than ever the need for the president to announce to the country what his policy is going to be on enforcing the law of the land in Little Rock and everywhere else."

Writing for the majority, Judge Marion C. Matthes of St. Louis said the issue narrowed down to whether public resistance, including mob violence, was sufficient cause to nullify a federal court order directing the school board to carry out its plan for gradual integration of the Little Rock schools.

"We say the time has not yet come in these United States when an order of a federal court must be whittled away, watered down or shamefully withdrawn in the face of violent and unlawful acts..." Judge Matthes wrote.

Only Dissenter Chief Judge Archibald K. Gardner of Huron, S. D., was the only dissenter. He said the school board had acted in good faith and that Judge Matthes' decision suspending integration had been based "on realities and conditions, rather than theories."

Judge Matthes emphasized the importance of the decision on integration of southern schools. Allowing Lemley's order to stand, he said, would mean an open invitation for other school districts to resort to violence.

Judge Matthes, at 52 the youngest of the seven judges, said the court realized the school board and its administrators had been harassed by the public and the state government.

Asian-African Bloc Prepare New Proposal

Charles Malik opened this morning's debate in the assembly. He made no mention of the western resolution. Speaking in general terms, he said there is a deep-seated fear in Lebanon that the very existence of the country is at stake.

"We ask that this fear be allayed," he said.

The resolution introduced by Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen, with six other small nations as co-sponsors, may come to a vote tomorrow night or Thursday.

Engen predicted assembly approval. One Asian diplomat foresaw passage with 56 favorable votes and some abstentions in the 81-nation assembly. But some Arab and Soviet sources expressed belief it would fail to get the necessary two-thirds of those voting.

India Opposed

India opposed the resolution because it did not demand immediate U.S. - British troop withdrawals and because it would lay the groundwork for sending more U.N. troops to the Middle East. Iraq also found the resolution unacceptable, and Yugoslavia disliked it.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said the resolution "must be rejected." Foreign minister Mahmoud Fawzi of the United Arab Republic refused comment but was expected to oppose it.

Both the United States and Britain endorsed the resolution.

Gun-Toting Youths Freed of Charges

Chicago — Two gun-toting Wisconsin farm youths were freed of concealed weapon charges Monday when they explained to a judge they sought only to fight off gangsters.

Kenneth Dunford, 18, and Robert Anderson, 19, both of rural Bristol, appeared before Municipal Judge Daniel J. McNama, who dismissed the charges.

A 16-year-old companion, from the same Kenosha county vicinity, faced a juvenile hearing today in a family court.

Each of the trio carried a pistol when they were seized by police Aug. 6. Distributed among the boys were a knife, a blackjack and a length of chain.

tion, which was sponsored by Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Liberia, Norway, Panama and Paraguay. With the resolution were letters from Dulles and Lloyd saying U.S. and British troops would be withdrawn whenever the assembly decided U.N. action made their presence in Lebanon and Jordan unnecessary to peace.

Change of Policy

Both nations had said earlier they would withdraw when arrangements had been made to protect the independence of the two Middle East nations. The letters thus signaled a change of policy by leaving the decision up to the assembly.

There was no chance of the assembly's adopting a rival Soviet resolution demanding troop withdrawal under supervision of U.N. observers who would stay on to watch the frontiers.

Whatever action the assembly takes, diplomats expect Hammarskjold soon to visit Lebanon and Jordan.

Push Plans for Second Try to Shoot the Moon

No Announcement Of Reason for Blast In First Lunar Test

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — The first disappointing failure was all but forgotten today as the air force pushed ahead with ambitious plans for the next attempt to shoot the moon.

Two days after the first massive U.S. moon rocket exploded there still was no official announcement on the exact cause.

Divers continued to probe 60 feet in the Atlantic depths to recover the splintered remains of the first stage Thor missile. The Thor burst apart at 50,000 feet 77 seconds after launching Sunday. The debris splashed into the ocean 10 miles from the Cape.

Reconstruction of some of the shattered pieces together with the limited telemetry data received on the brief flight should give technicians the information they need to spot the malfunction.

The tedious job could take as long as a week. Moon project officers looked forward to their next try, which probably will come between Sept. 14-17. That is when the moon again will be in closest proximity to the earth.

The man who will make the final decision of future moon probes is Roy W. Johnson, head of the defense department's advance research projects agency.

Johnson said the air force probably will be given the next shot despite the failure. He indicated the army is not yet ready for its first lunar attempt.

Lunar Probes

The air force has been authorized three lunar probes and the army two. Johnson said the moon project could extend through 1959.

The mission — to place an 85-pound satellite in orbit around the moon after a 2½ day space journey — is a tremendous task.

Project heads were far from satisfied with the 3-stage moon rocket's fiery debut, but they agreed the task would become simpler to accomplish as the program progressed.

Trapeze, Chemise Win in a Breeze

Teens Like Easy Line

It's trapeze and chemise from start to finish in suits and dresses for teenage girls. Top headlines are being made by narrow knit tube chemises, slim but easy dresses with curving scythe backs and rough tweed trapeze-style suits with unfitted jackets and gently flaring skirts. 'Knit chemises, coming onto the scene with a fanfare, are shown in both cotton and wool, almost invariably with the wide ribbing seen in all knitwear this season.

Mosaic paisleys are a new addition to the cotton knitwear picture.

Softer dress styling accompanies this fall's loose lines, with eased contours and less definite shapes everywhere. And teen shoppers won't find sheaths displayed. The fitted sheath waistline has moved out, up and down and it's now found with an empire effect just under the bustline, at the hip, at mid-thigh, or at the knees — anywhere except its natural home.

Hiked Hemline
Another movement in the fashion upheaval is the hiked hemline. Its climb has stopped just short of the knee and indications are that it will remain there for the season.

The trapeze silhouette — a cross between an eased sheath and a full skirt — brings in its wake an abundance of 2-piece jacket dresses. Jacket lengths vary from just below the waist, topping a trapeze skirt, to hip or fingertip length for a chemise effect.

Further silhouette innovations in this year's dresses are the tunic, back for another season; the chasuble line with softly draped open envelope or scissors pleats starting at the bust; flounces, flared or pleated at the knee; and the blouson, dipping to a new low point in back.

Many Fabrics
Conversation piece fabrics abound for the high schooler's fall dresses. Featured are soft, shaggy mohairs, homespun-look wools, bright and giant plaids, blanket weight materials, looped surfaces, rough tweeds and extra wide corduroys. Ribbon weaves, novelty textures, fur fibers, sueded cloth and sheer worsteds in subtle plaids will be seen as well for suiting.

Plaids, big and bold, are tops on the dress fashion list. Offbeat combinations of varied blue tones, blue and green or pink shades are prominent, but little gray can be found. Soft, grayed browns, muted greens and clear reds will be displayed in both dresses and suits, with subtlety of color a dominant note in suiting.

Paisleys take honors in the dark cottons shown for early fall. The always popular plaids and tartans follow, shown in green, brown, red or deep blue.

Collars Big
Collars often fur, have marched into the foreground of dress and suit styles and they're bigger than ever. Teens can still find a few Peter Pan's, but the great majority of fashions have width at the top with showy platter, sailor, capelet, shawl or portrait collars.

If suit collars aren't big, they are likely to be nonexistent. The more severe neckline of the collarless suits are offset by lots of buttons or detailing at the hip or just below the bustline.

Nubby Rough Tweeds abound this fall, and in the winter coat at right it's red and black wool. The easy-contoured coat has a barrel back and one of this fall's larger collars. The cloche hat, a rage of the '20s now making a comeback, balances the coat with a touch of white. At left is a version of the ever-popular white wool blazer with a heraldic emblem on the pocket. It's worn over a light blue lambs wool sweater and tops a bright blue wool slim skirt. Modeling the outfits are, from left, Miss Jean Lochschmidt, 521 E. Kimberly avenue, Kimberly, and Miss Nancy Wendlandt, 2311 Hammond avenue. (Post-Crescent Photo)

A successor to the walking suit—the stroller suit—promises to be a fashion-wise style. It is made with the same heavier weight wools found in the walking suit and it is distinguished by a long, coat-like jacket varying between 26 and 38 inches in length.

Semi-fitted half-and-half suits are a compromise for teens who like a modified version of the unfitted silhouette. They're belted in front, with free lines in the back.

More Fit To Formals

Teenaged opponents of the straight and loose fall casual wear will find comfort in dance and formal fashions.

There's much more fit to waist and bust lines in dress-up clothes than teen shoppers will find anywhere else. Most dance frocks follow the figure and reserve their concessions to the current silhouette for graceful back panels draped cape-like from the yoke line.

But for trapeze fans, designers have combined the empire and trapeze lines in creations flowing outward from just below the bustline. Dressy jackets eased at the waist over slightly flaring skirts also produce a trapeze shape. What's more, as proof that the unfitted era holds sway, dance wear shows easier contours everywhere, sheaths are almost non-existent and the bustline is never prominent.

Heading the list of new and important fashion details is the harem skirt, gathered under at the hem in bulky folds. It is displayed in abundance on the season's shorter gowns. Prominent as well are crushed cummerbunds — another companion of the often seen empire line.

Pink is headed for a smash season in cocktail and formal dresses this year, fashion experts predict. Shocking pink, delicate pink, rosy pink and icy pink all promise to be tops in fashion. They're often shown in shimmering satins, most favored among fabrics for the coming fall.

Teens are leaning toward romantic floor-length ball gowns rather than cocktail lengths for formal wear, though plenty of the shorter creations can be found. They're usually displayed in crystallette, taffeta, peau de soie or nylon sheers, while fluffy nets, formerly a favorite, decline in popularity.

Carol DeBruin Bride of Douglas Vandenberg

St. Mary Catholic church, Kaukauna, was the site of the 9 o'clock double ring ceremony this morning uniting Miss Carol DeBruin and Douglas Vandenberg. It preceded a nuptial high mass with the Rev. Earl Brouchoud officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. DeBruin, 405 E. Eighth street, Kaukauna. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Vandenberg, route 1, West Deperre.

After the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, and a dinner was held at Van Abel's, Hollandtown. A 7 to 9 o'clock reception and a dance from 9 to 1 o'clock at Van Abel's will honor the newlyweds.

Mrs. Merlin School, Appleton, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Miss Janice Janssen, Little Chute, and Miss Betty Vandenberg, Kaukauna, cousin of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Mr. School attended Mr. Vandenberg as best man. Groomsmen were Fred Verhagen, Appleton, cousin of the bridegroom, and Floyd DeBruin, Kaukauna, brother of the bride.

Ushers were brother of the bride, Francis DeBruin, Kaukauna, and Emery Mallen, Little Chute, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

After a honeymoon in southern Wisconsin, the couple will reside at 822 1/2 Grignon street, Kaukauna.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High school, and is employed at the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company. Her husband attended

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

It is no disgrace for a partnership to be shut out of a lay-down game or even a slam contract by perfectly timed preemptive bids by the opponents — such things must occur if the cards are so divided that there is great danger in competition. Thus, East-West in the following deal were not to be blamed for letting the enemy buy the contract at four spades. But they did deserve considerable criticism for their defensive play against that contract.

North, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH
S-A 10 5
H-9 6 4
D-8
C-Q J 10 8 7 3
WEST
S-7 4

D-K Q J 6
C-K 5 4 2
EAST
S-6 3
H-J 10 8 7 3 2
D-A 4 3
C-A 6
SOUTH
S-K Q J 9 8 2
H-Q
D-10 9 7 5 2
C-9

The bidding:

North East South West
3 C Pass 3 S Pass
4 S Pass Pass Pass

East-West could have made five hearts with the greatest ease, with the heart queen dropping singleton, but it was no easy matter to reach that contract against the highly obstructive tactics they encountered. East certainly couldn't afford to make a vulnerable overcall at the three-level on his holding, and once he had passed, it was risky for West to take any action over South's three spades. True, West might have doubled three spades, leaving it to his partner to pass or bid according to his holding, and most experts would take this properly aggressive course, but it can't be denied that the double might go very wrong. East could have been much weaker than he was, and South much stronger.

West, defending against the four-spade contract, opened the king and ace of hearts. South ruffed and led a low diamond. West put up the jack and, fearing that a shift to trumps might pick up the queen in partner's hand, continued with the diamond king. Declarer was glad to ruff this in dummy, and he then led a low club. East put up the ace and he too felt that a shift to trumps might expose his partner's queen, so he returned a club. That was all South needed. He could ruff out the opposing diamond honors, finally draw trumps, and claim the contract with a good diamond. It really does seem that "somebody" East or West should have led a trump!

Edward Esslers Return From East

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Essler and son, David, 802 N. Oneida street, returned home over the weekend from an eastern trip. While vacationing, they toured the new Kimberly-Clark corporation plant at New Milford, Conn., and were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Teske, former Neenah residents, who reside at Carmel Hill road, Brookfield, Conn.

Reader Says 'Yes' to Widow Who's Doubtful on Marriage

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a young woman by today's standards — 34. My husband passed away two years ago and left me with two children, aged 11 and 9. I've been keeping a steady company with a wonderful man. He's financially successful, intellectually stimulating and treats my children well. I know I could have a good life with him. He's asked me to marry him but my children are against it. They cried their hearts out on the two occasions that I broached the subject. They tell me they could never love another daddy. They have several pictures of their father and bring them into the living room when Mr.

X is expected. My children mean a great deal to me and I don't want to break their hearts. Do you think I could possibly find happiness with this man, knowing my children are against it? — W.T.D.

Dear W.T.D.: The following letter answers your question — succinctly. It was written by a woman who walked in your moccasins 20 years ago. Please read on:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 55 years of age and brought up three children without a father. Too bad you weren't around 20 years ago, Ann. I notice in your column you tell widows who write for advice to make a new life for themselves, if they can. I had many good opportunities to remarry, but I let my kids talk me out of it. Now I realize, what a fool I was.

When my husband died of a heart attack I was 35. When ever a gentleman came to the house the kids made me feel like two cents. They cried, made ugly scenes and embarrassed me so often that I just gave up the idea.

My mother was no help. She told me it was my duty to devote my life to the children. She said a step-father would be unfair to them.

Now my children are married and have families of their own. I never hear from them unless they want a down-payment on a house or someone to take care of their kids when they go out of town on a vacation. I'm alone and I DO mean alone.

You can print this letter if you want to. I wish I had seen one like it 20 years ago. — LONELY AND IT SERVES ME RIGHT

DEAR ANN: My husband's girl friend has been using my name all over town. Her credit is lousy and she's rapidly ruining mine.

When I mentioned this to my husband he said "If you don't like it you can lump it." (Very intelligent, eh?) Is there anything I can do about this disgusting situation? — SADIE

There's plenty you can do, Sadie. If you can't afford a lawyer, Legal Aid can help you. I hope you throw not only the book, but the entire library at this character (and I do mean your husband).

DEAR ANN: The boy next door is a real creep. He's 17 years old but he acts like 8 most of the time.

Yesterday I invited a couple of girl friends over to sunbathe in our back yard. (We are all 15). This jerky kid had a camera and took pictures of us all afternoon. He used up about three rolls of film and developed the pictures in his basement. We didn't know what he was up to until it was too late.

He claims he has some real "interesting stuff" and I'm about ready to tear his hair out. Is there anything I can do, if the pictures are really bad? — MARY

How bad can they be, Mary? You were outside in the back yard, weren't you? Tell the little twerp to stay in that dark room of his for a couple years and develop.

Bread and Reducing

Reducers write to ask if they must cut out bread in order to lose weight. It seems that after a few days without the "staff of life," the reducing contingent gets plain hungry for bread.

My answer comes in question form: wherever did you get the idea that you should cut bread? To diet successfully, you cannot omit any of the essential or protective foods, and bread is one of them. Those who break the rule get so hungry they cannot stay with a diet. Or, if they manage to stick, they become tired and drawn.

When dieting, you require and must eat two slices of bread daily or the equivalent in baked goods and cereals. And there is another thing you should know: bread in itself is not fattening. A slice of enriched white bread uses up only 65 counts of your calorie allotment. Loaves made especially for dieters have a still lower count.

Of course, what you spread on bread can bring up the count alarmingly. A large pat of butter can add as much as 100 calories. So do spread butter sparingly, but again do not cut it altogether. It, too, is an essential food.

Enclosing Envelope Unfriendly

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I recently wrote a friend asking her for some information which I needed very quickly. I enclosed a stamped, self-addressed envelope with my letter for her convenience in answering. I was told that it was an insult to enclose a stamped envelope when requesting information from a friend and that it implied that she wouldn't spend four cents to send the information. I never thought of it in this way and I would like to know whether I was wrong.

Answer: Your sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to a friend was not actually insulting but it wasn't very friendly.

Egg Cups

Dear Mrs. Post: How are both ends of an egg cup used? Has the small end any purpose other than being the conventional base? Also, are egg cups used only for soft-boiled eggs, or for hard-boiled eggs, too?

Answer: Egg cups are intended for soft-boiled eggs only. The larger end of the cup is used by people who like to eat their eggs American fashion — meaning to take the egg out of the shell, add seasoning, mix it together with a teaspoon, and eat it. The small end is for those who prefer to eat their eggs English fashion, cracking the tip of the shell and removing just enough to enable you to insert an egg-spoon, sprinkling small amounts of salt and pepper for each successive mouthful and eating the white or yolk as it happens to come unmixed.

Substitute For Father

Dear Mrs. Post: Would my 16-year-old brother be too young to substitute for my father with me and give me away at my wedding? Mother regards father and walk up the aisle him still as "the baby" and thinks him too young for the duty.

Answer: At 16 — even 15 — a brother may very certainly give the sister in marriage — unless he is exceptionally small for his age.

Drummers, Buglers Ready

Final Inspection, Nervousness Part Of Corps Competition Preliminaries

BY MICHELE MATHEWS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Hats are straightened, sashes smoothed, shoes given a final check and the corps is ready to perform.

Every drill competition for the Americanos drum and bugle corps, formerly the Sons of the American Legion corps, involves last minute nervousness and inspection before taking the field.

The 36 drummers and buglers and seven color guard members assemble on the "ready line" half an hour before each performance for this last check.

This article, the second in a 2-part series on the Americanos drum and bugle corps, describes drill competition.

Fifteen minutes later they move up five to 10 yards to the inspection line where a judge inspects each corps member thoroughly.

When the corps ahead of them leaves the field they go on with only 60 seconds to get there from the starting line without being penalized.

Precision Performance Precision carries through the performance from starting line to finish line.

The corps begins to march without hearing a whistle or verbal command but just at a foot signal from drum major Ronald Bixby.

At the first note of music the timing judge fires a gun, and from then on the corps must perform for a minimum of 11 and maximum of 13 minutes. Of this time, a minimum of eight minutes must be "in motion" and the rest can be a standstill concert. This gives each corps time to play nine to 14 selections.

When the last corps has finished, all of them take the field and the judges scores are announced.

This is the exterior of a drill competition, but much more is involved.

Weekend Trips The Americanos usually leave Friday night or Saturday morning for weekend competition and have returned to Appleton as late as 4 o'clock Monday morning. Their longest jaunt this summer was a 540-mile round trip to Hayward.

Usually field competition means a non-competitive parade during the weekend with each corps participating with local floats. Four to 15 drum and bugle corps take part and a trophy is sometimes awarded the unit which makes the best appearance.

Financial backing of about $5,000 is needed for a show, and sometimes it is financed by local merchants. Tickets often sell for $1 or $2. Crowds run from 2,000 to 7,000 for shows which have been given for a firemen's picnic.

July 4 festivities, national muskie festival and state American Legion, VFW and AMVETS conventions. The 300 to 400 people taking part in a show are banded in high schools, churches, clubhouses or private homes.

In a performance, everything counts as far as the judges are concerned, whether it's a crooked drum stick or a slightly slouched bugler.

A total of 100 points can be granted, 25 in each of the categories of marching and maneuvering, bugling, drumming and general effect.

The corps is ticked for each mistake it makes. In marching and maneuvering this includes a crooked line or a member out of step, out of position or not standing up straight. In each category five of the 25 points go for a build-up caption which measures the difficulty of maneuvers.

Buglers are penalized for each wrong note, not playing together, not holding instruments straight and not bringing them up and down together.

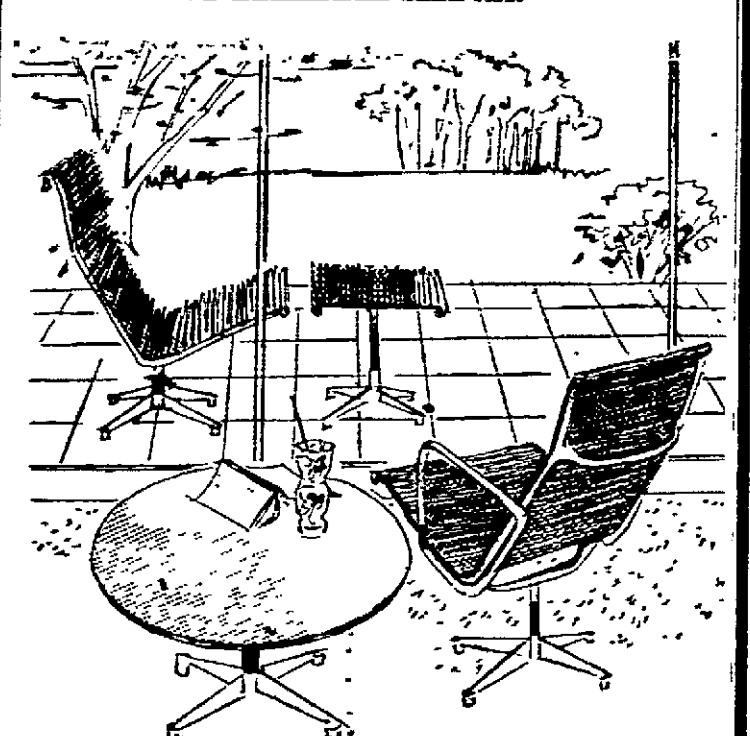

Drummers are ticked for not playing together, and if drum heights and stick angles are not the same. General effect, the most important category and the hardest to explain, adds up to the effect of the performance on the judges.

In drill competition there is one judge for inspection, one for timing, one or two for each category, a head judge and a tabulator.

Pot of Gold Dreams of Mink Coat, Riviera Stay Come True

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If women wrote to Santa Claus, their first request would be for a mink coat, their second a dream kitchen.

This is a well-authenticated conclusion arrived at by Sam Reiner after 11 years of producing prizes for contests.

Reiner is a pleasant, quiet-spoken man who doesn't look at all like Santa Claus, but gives away a million dollars a year in contest prizes. This year, he says, it may hit two million.

A former lingerie salesman, Reiner decided to set up a business as a contest consultant shortly after he got out of the service in World War II. In the years since he has given away everything from the use of a palace on the Riviera to a mattress stuffed with money. Says he:

"Trends change in America. Ten years ago women wanted household appliances more than anything else. Today the mink coat represents Utopia in the feminine mind."

"Travel is something practically everybody dreams about, and some of the most popular contest prizes are trips aboard for a family of four. Men want high-powered automobiles, particularly sports cars. The whole family dreams of having a swimming pool in the back yard. And boats of all kinds are increasingly popular."

Takes Periodic Surveys To keep abreast of the trends in the tastes of the public, Reiner makes periodic surveys of housewives, businessmen and office workers to find out what they would ask for if they were given Aladdin's lamp. Through the contest, he says, was one in which the grand prize was a month's vacation in a palace on the Riviera. The winner was a government employee from Oklahoma City, who took his wife and two little girls and "lived like a king" for 30 days.

"They were given $200 a day spending money," says Reiner. "The palace was fully staffed with servants, they had a car and a chauffeur at their disposal and for a month they lived in a world of which they had never dreamed. At the end of the time the man remarked, 'There's something to this life of royalty, after all.'"

Reiner's most recent contest gave away barrels of money to lucky contestants who guessed the amount in a barrel. Next on his list will be a trip to Europe for a family aboard one of the first jet airliners. After that, what? Says he:

"Well, maybe we'll get around to giving somebody a vacation on the moon."

This Week's Books Scientific Subjects Topics of New Volumes

west wilderness; "Nature's Way" by Herman Wouk, a play; and "Baa Baa Black Sheep" by Gregory Boyington, the autobiography of a professional marine flyer in World War II.

Patterson Dissatisfied With His 12th-Round KO of Harris

Champ Bounces Back From Early Knockdown

BY JACK STEVENSON
Los Angeles —(AP)— Dissatisfied with his twelfth-round knockout of game but outclassed Roy Harris, world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson vowed today to fight his way into sharper form.

His timing apparently suffering from his year-long lay-off, the 23-year-old champion had to climb from the floor to successfully defend his title Monday night against the courageous but sometimes awkward challenger from Cut and Shoot, Texas.

Patterson was down for a three count from a left and right in the second round but bounced up to take command from the next round on. He scored four knockdowns.

Trainer Calls Halt

With Harris far behind on points and bleeding from a battered nose and cuts near both eyes, his veteran trainer, Bill Gore, asked that the fight be stopped after the twelfth round.

"I had it stopped," Gore declared. "The fighter wanted to continue."

"I'm more dissatisfied with this fight than any one I've fought in the last few years," Patterson declared. "If I had been able to get started, it

Thursday Night's Game:

Appleton Valley Fair gave second-place Oshkosh a battle before bowing, 7-5, in a second round Fox River Valley league game Monday night at Goodland field. Losing pitcher "Butch" Fahrenkrug allowed the visitors only six hits.

Valley Fair tied the score

1-1 in the bottom of the first as John Landgraf singled, Bob Karisny sacrificed him to second, and Jim Kirkland singled him in. The Appleton nine scored again in the fourth as Kirkland doubled, Fahrenkrug tripled, and Hank Emmons squeezed in Fahrenkrug.

Final Runs

Appleton's final two runs came in the eighth when Karisny beat out a bunt, Harry Johnson singled, Fahrenkrug walked, and Emmons singled into right field to drive in both runs.

Oshkosh had two big innings—the second, and the fifth, when the winners scored their decisive runs. Pitcher Bob Manthey's 3-run homer in the

Starr Receives Starting Call Wednesday

McLean Says All QBs to Get Chance Against Steelers

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Green Bay—Bart Starr will start at quarterback for the Packers Wednesday night.

That was the word today from Coach Ray McLean who added "all of our quarterbacks will get a good chance to show their stuff."

Backing up Starr will be his sidekick of 1957, "Babe" Parilli, and the two freshmen—Joe Francis and Doug Malsion.

The QBs don't face an easy job since the opposing Pittsburgh Steelers have an extremely tough defense. They allowed only 178 points last year—an average of 14.9 per game. The Cleveland Browns were the only team to better those figures—172 and 14.3.

Haven't Forgotten

The Steelers haven't forgotten how to play defense, judging by their 10-0 loss to the Browns last Saturday night. Cleveland's touchdown was set up by a recovered fumble.

The Packer quarterback job is wide open, so to speak, and at the moment three of the four have good talking points. Starr is old accuracy plus he has yet to average below 50 per cent in completions in two seasons of pitching. Parilli the No. 3 passer in the league in '52, threw the bombs that produced two of the Packers three wins last year. Francis turned out to be the pitching star of the recent intra-squad game completing nine out of 11 throws.

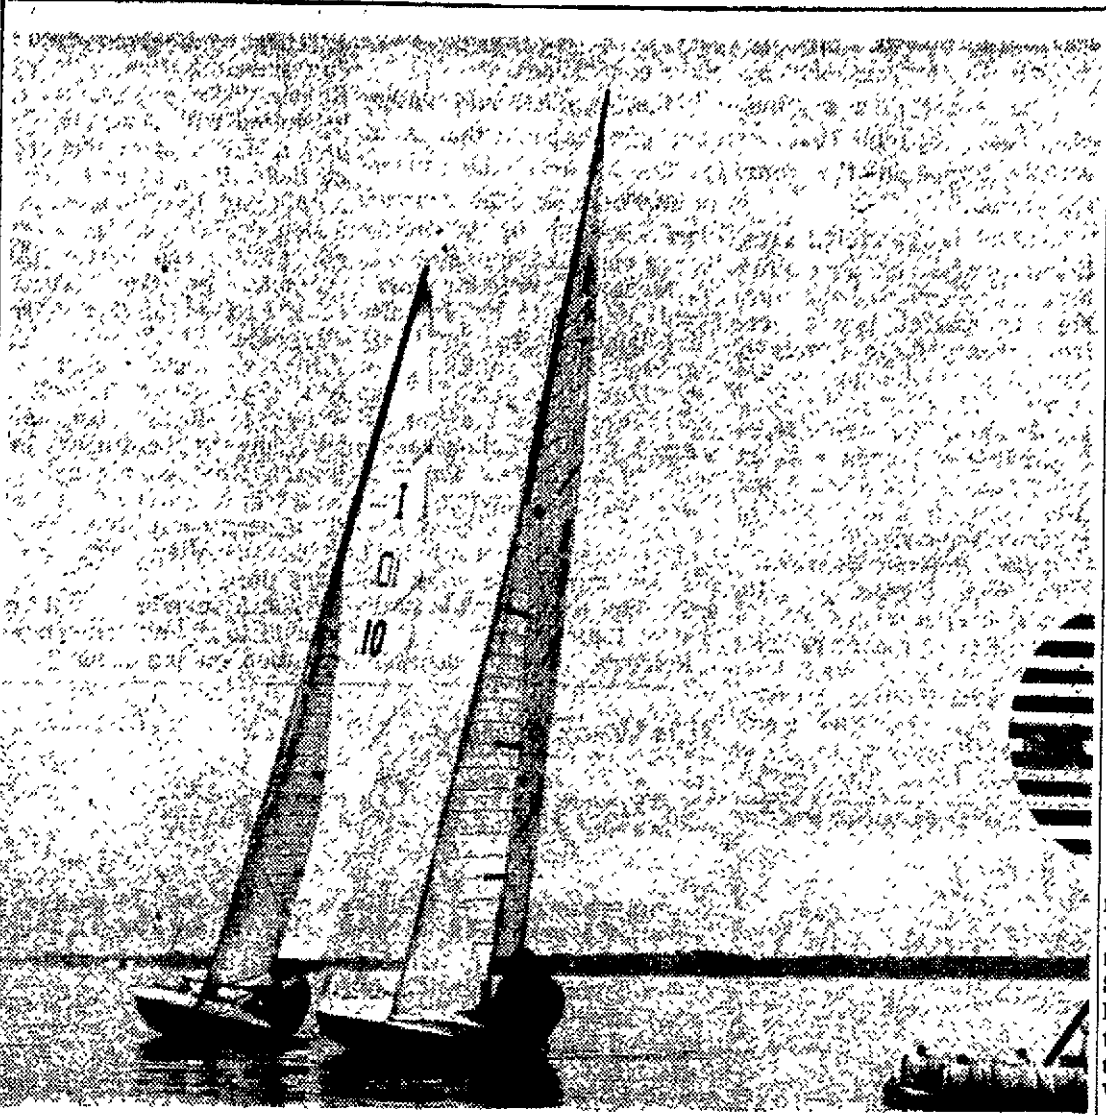

Some Work 2 Ways

McLean not only will test 57 varieties of players Wednesday night, he will work some of them two ways.

Francis also may get some work on defense, McLean indicated. The handy Hawaiian keeps active during practice by working with Coach Ray Richards and the defenders as a cornerback. He has good reactions and hits hard.

"Jug" Switzer is due for double duty Wednesday night—as a running back and in

Foxes Beat Raiders Behind Sadowski, Return Home

Tano Hits Grand Slam Home Run

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Monday evening, for the second time within five days, Fox Cities Foxes righthander Ted Sadowski salvaged the finale of a series with Cedar Rapids.

Sadowski spaced nine hits effectively to beat the Three I league-leading Raiders, 8-3 Monday and end a 3-game Cedar Rapids win skein over the Foxes. The big, veteran righthander had defeated the Raiders, 9-2, Thursday night at Goodland field to end a 6-game Cedar Rapids victory chain against the Fox Cities.

Half of Sadowski's eight victories this season have been against the Raiders. Cedar Rapids handed Ted only one of his nine setbacks.

The Foxes return home tonight to open a 3-game series with runnerup Green Bay. Tonight's game is "Combined Service clubs night" at Goodland field. Green Bay moved to within four games of the top last night with a win over Winona.

Bob Tano's grand slam home run in the second inning Monday was the major piece of support which the Foxes provided Sadowski. Tano also whacked a pair of singles, while "Tex" Taylor homered and doubled. "Potato" Pascual, the league's No. 1 hitter, pounded two singles in five trips.

'Babe' Bayer, Baerenwald Reach City Tourney Finals

Play for Title Sunday; Stordock, Heideman Bow Out in Semis

Appleton's golfing Bayers are represented in the finals of the City golf tournament for the fourth time in the last five years.

Gerald "Babe" Bayer will face Al Baerenwald Sunday in the 36-hole finals of the annual tournament on the Reid Municipal course.

"Babe's" brother, "Syl," won the crown in 1956 and 1957 but was ousted early in this year's tourney. A third Bayer brother, "Chuck," reached the final round in 1954 but lost to John Hayes.

Seeks Third Title

Former titlist Baerenwald will be seeking his third city crown and first since 1953.

The morning 18 holes will start at 8 o'clock Sunday. The afternoon round will begin at 1:30.

Baerenwald's latest triumph en route to the finals were a 2 and 1 decision over Elmer Selig in the quarter-finals and a 4-3 verdict over Gil Stordock in the semis. In both cases, Baerenwald completed the round for a 73 medal count. Selig had a 76 and Stordock a 77.

"Babe" Bayer threw 1-unders-par golf at John Lindberg to oust the Fox Cities amateur champ from the quarter-finals, 3 and 2. Lindberg had a 74.

Bayer stopped Sherm Heideman, 3-2, in the semis. The respective medal counts were 74 and 77.

In other quarter-final tests, Heideman beat Bob Hogan.

Sadowski Hits

The loser was George Playner who allowed seven runs in the first 1 and 2/3 innings. He was relieved by Bob York and utility man Joe Trenary who gave the Foxes just one run the rest of the way.

In the big 7-run Fox Cities second, "Tex" Taylor smacked his sixth home run of the season; over the right field fence, 335 feet away.

Then Player walked Bob Van Dyke, "Chick" Payne and Hank Marockie. Sadowski helped his cause along with a 2-run single. Don Danton fled out and Jim Hall walked.

Then Tano smashed his fourteenth homer of the season over the left field fence at the 335-foot mark to unload the bases.

The Foxes made it 8-0 off York in the fourth on Hall's long blast over the center field fence at the 370-foot

"It's strictly a labor of love."

That's how Alden "Ziggy" Thompson describes the painstaking campaign he's undertaken to win Appleton's late Mark Catlin, Sr., a niche in the National Football Hall of Fame.

Fox Cities amateur golf champion John Lindberg has won his way into the semi-finals of the Appleton Butte des Morts Golf club's championship tourney.

Lindberg defeated Don Jabas, 3 and 1, in the quarter-finals, firing a 72 — his low round of the season. Jabas shot a 77.

Joining Lindberg in the semi-finals was John Maring, who posted a 3 and 2 quarter-final victory over Otto Lieber. Maring's medal score was 74, Lieber's was 77.

In a first round match, Lie-

Lieber won BDM's July-August Handicap tournament defeating Frank Pechman, 2 and 1, in the finals. Pechman gained the final with a 1-up victory over Bob Ferrel in the semis. Lieber beat Norb Verbrick, 3 and 2, in the semi-finals.

Lieber gained the semi-finals with victories over Andy Gloudehans, Milt Rueckl and Roy Getschow. Club championship tourney results in flights other than championship follow. All are first-round matches, unless otherwise indicated.

Milwaukee — (AP) — Two young Milwaukee amateurs, Bob Brue and Bob Thoms, led the pros today as the field of 142 golfers entered the second round of the Wisconsin State Open tournament.

day, taking the lead in the first round of the 72-hole medal play meet.

Brue, who had trouble on the greens in his runnerup role in the 1958 Wisconsin Amateur tourney, took six birdies as he carded a 32-35 at North Hills, his home club and the host course for the Open.

Thoms, 28-year-old Milwaukee dancing instructor and a North Hills member, took second place with a 69. He was out in 32 and back in 37 strokes. He had four straight birdies among his first nine holes.

Three-time Open champion Manuel de la Torre, Milwaukee Country club pro, was tied for third place with Milwaukee amateur Ken Berke. Each had a card of 34-36-70.

One stroke back were Russ Teveson, De la Torre's assistant, and Madison amateur Jack Allen.

Tied at 72 were amateurs Frank Tenfel of Watford and Pfc. Clayton Lindquist, a soldier stationed at Milwaukee.

Defending champion Tommy Veech, a Milwaukee pro, had trouble on the hard, slippery greens and took a 73. Tied with Veech were pros Steve Bull of Racine and Bob Kivlin of Lake Delton and amateurs Jack Hesler and Dick Sucher of Milwaukee.

Other leading scorers: Seventy-four — pros Billy Milward, Green Bay; Mike Benciscutto, Racine, and Bruce Boegel, Milwaukee; amateurs Harry Simonson and Steve Caravello, both of Madison.

Seventy-five — pros Brian Charter of Janesville, Roy Wallin of Lake Geneva, and Tom Puls of Milwaukee; amateurs Roy Schreves, Delavan; Harold Knuth, Racine, and Milwaukeeans George Olney and Bob Johnson.

might have been a different fight. I know that if both of us had more fights we would have looked a lot better. I'll probably fight more often now."

Stopping the fight, which goes into the record as a twelve-round knockout, brought the first defeat to the picturesque Texan from the Big Thicket country near Houston. It was the third successful title defense for Patterson, who won the championship in 1956 at 21.

The champion from New York spotted his foe 94 pounds at 184½ to 194 but landed the power punches. He knocked Harris down for an eight count in the seventh with a right to the side of the head. In the eighth Roy was down for counts of seven and three. He took a nine count in the twelfth.

But fans who tabbed the Texan an easy mark and made him a 6-1 underdog were surprised to watch a bristling battle and a courageous showing from the challenger.

At times his unorthodox style in itself served to stall Patterson's attack.

20,000 on Hand
Approximately 20,000 fans watched the open-air battle at Wrigley field and another 200,000 by closed-circuit television in theaters across the nation.

The gross gate here was estimated at $228,000, the gross in theaters at a million dollars. Harris collects his $100,000 guarantee. Patterson's

Jay, Willey Face LA In Twi-Night Twin Bill

Los Angeles — (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, National league favorites with an 8-game lead, will try to persuade the circuit's doubting Thomases, the Los Angeles Dodgers, this evening in a doubleheader.

The Dodgers are 14 games out of first place, but they are the only National league team with an edge over the Braves in dual competition. Los Angeles has won nine of its 15 contests with the world champions.

The Braves will confront

Dodger batters tonight with Joey Jay and Carl Willey, two of the most brilliant junior hurlers in the major leagues. Jay has won seven times against four losses, while Willey has eight victories and three losses.

The Dodgers, trying to snap Milwaukee's 7-game victory streak, hope to confound the Braves with Don Drysdale in dual competition. Los Angeles has a talent for beating the Braves, while Podres is skilled in winning in the Coliseum.

That the sixth-place Dodgers have some kind of spell over the Braves is shown by comparing the Braves' Los Angeles troubles with their success against other clubs.

the defensive backfield. Switzer apparently has lost none of his quickness and in the recent squad game he danced and faked more than he did in his pre-air force Packer days.

Steelers plays were used in a defensive drill yesterday. Considerable time was spent in polishing defenses inside the 20.

McLean also conducted a memory test on the various punt and kickoff playbooks. All of the players were lined up on the sidelines and Ray yelled "Let's have the punt play," etc., and each unit would run out and get in position. "We want them to react automatically," McLean said.

Defensive back Bob Burris, who also will play some offense against Pitt, accidentally kicked himself during the drill.

One of the spectators yesterday was Tom Hearden, former Packer defensive coach, who returned over the weekend from the veterans hospital in Milwaukee Tom suffered a stroke in spring of '57. Though his speech is hampered, Hearden telephoned George Bertrand yesterday and asked to "go to practice." So out they came and Hearden watched in George's car from behind the wire fence on the south side of the field.

take, it is estimated, will be more than $200,000.

Patterson's manager Gus D'Amato, still feuding with the powerful International Boxing club, announced the champion is committed to a title defense next June in Colorado Springs, Colo. But he didn't name an opponent and he left open the possibility that Floyd might fight in the meantime.

Patterson termed last night's fight the toughest of his three defenses. The others, against "Hurricane" Jackson and Pete Rademacher last year, also ended in knockouts.

Some Criticism Heard

Legislative Committee to Review Price Paid for Muskie Fingerlings

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A price of $50 a pound for muskellunge fingerlings produced by a private hatchery owner and bought by the state Conservation department allows a reasonable profit to the producer, a spokesman for the state fisheries division said here today.

The state is buying up to $7,000 worth of young muskies for planting in public waters, in part because of the failure of its own crop at the Woodruff state hatchery this year.

There has been some criticism about buying private stock, and about the price which the conservation commission has agreed to pay. A legislative interim committee headed by Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto is expected to review the matter at a public hearing in Woodruff Thursday.

Will Buy 5,000

Dr. E. W. Schneberger, chief of the fisheries division, said the privately reared fish will run about 37 to the pound and that he intends to buy about 5,000 of them under the authorization granted by the commission. Most of them will be planted in the north-eastern part of the state where the bulk of the Woodruff hatchery fingerlings are usually stocked, he added.

The official said the state's costs for muskellunge production, even on a mass production basis, run about $25 to $30 a pound under normal circumstances. The mark-up permitted, he said, was thought to be reasonable in view of the fact that the private producer pays taxes and has other costs the state does not face, as well as the fact that muskellunge rearing is a hazardous enterprise.

University of Wisconsin scientists are studying the reasons for the failure of the state's Woodruff hatchery to yield a normal crop this spring. Schneberger said unseasonable weather conditions during the spring probably accounted for the die-off of the young and the failure of other eggs to hatch.

Orioles Climb Nearer AL's 1st Division

Drub Kansas City, 8-2, Behind Brown's 9-Hitter

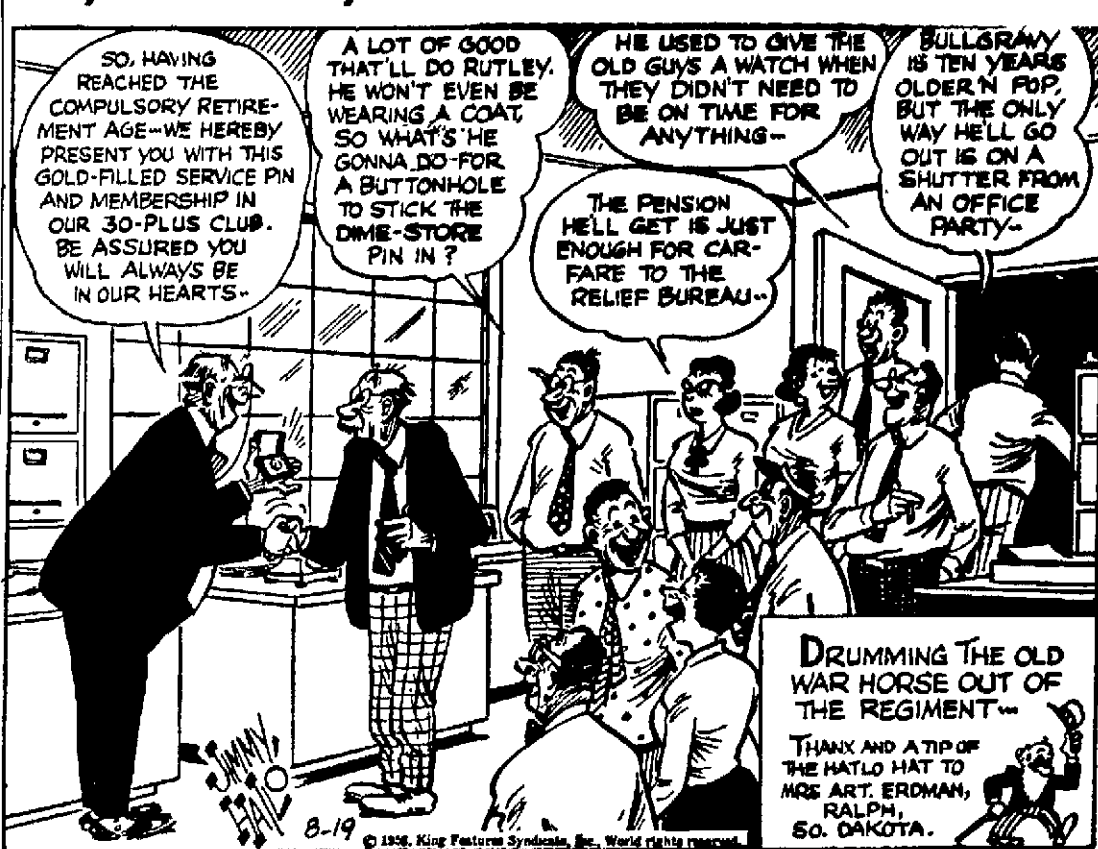

By The Associated Press
Whether the New York Yankees can blow their American league lead is a question to be considered by guys who smoke stuff they don't sell at the supermarket. But can the Orioles give Baltimore its first finish in the first division?

The Birds, who have improved each year since their rebirth in 1954, finished just a game short of fourth-place Detroit last season. And after drubbing Kansas City, 8-2, in the only major league game scheduled Monday, the Orioles now are within half a game of the fourth-place Tigers.

11-Game Skid
Even with an 11-game losing skid — longest slump in either league this season—the Orioles have spent most of their time in the first division in the last month. The slump tumbled them from second to sixth. They slipped past Cleveland into fifth by winning their third in a row last night.

Baltimore had only one hit — a third-inning hunt by Willie Miranda—but held a 1-1 tie with the A's until opening up against Ralph Terry (7-10) in a 7 - run sixth inning. Gene Woodling socked a 2 - run homer and Dick Williams crashed a 3-run shot. "Hee" Brown (5-3) won it on a 9-hitter. Roger Maris scored both runs for the A's, belting his twenty - second home run in the eighth after singling and scoring for a 1-1 tie in the fourth on Harry Simpson's single and Hal Smith's sacrifice fly. The Orioles' first run came in on Miranda's bunt, a hit batter, a sacrifice and a ground out.

They'll Do It Every Time

Torre Becomes Extra-Base Gunner Despite Bad Hand

Los Angeles —(AP)— Frank Torre, once regarded as a shotgun hitter, has added a cannon to his batting armory. The deft first baseman arrived here Monday with a .313 batting average, third highest among the Braves' regulars.

His first major league grand slam homer Sunday helped to boost his RBI total to 43, putting him one ahead of his first base alternate, Joe Adcock.

Torre's recent hitting, which included homers, triples and doubles, has done something to vindicate a prediction by slugger Hank Aaron last winter that Torre could be a contender for the National league batting crown this year.

The remarkable thing about Torre's recent extra-base gunnery is that he has been batting with a bad hand. He strained a tendon trying to hold up his swing on a curve ball about a month ago against St. Louis.

However, the club trainer, Doc Feron, has developed a special bandage which keeps the tendon firmly in place and permits him to swing for the long range targets.

Lloyd Gatz, Joe Kneice, and Owen Hurley tied for low gross honors with 1-over-par 37s in the most recent action in the Municipal Goodfellowship golf league at Reid Municipal golf course.

Mike Smock, Joe Ackerman, and "Babe" Bayer were right behind the threesome with 38s. John Nussbaum shot a 39, and Rube Demand Jr., Bob Goss, John De Young, and Don Anderson fired 40s.

The Dots continued to hold first place with 685. The Royals are in second with 676. The Topflights have 657 for third.

Tight Money May Force City to Program Paving

Concrete Work Requests Cause Committee Worry

BY JIM NEWCOMB
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

This may be the first year the city outlines next year's paving work before establishing a paving budget.

Council street and sanitation committeemen discussed the subject Monday as they considered concrete for four streets surrounding Huntley elementary school, now under construction on the northeast side.

Ald. Allan Sonkowsky, at the last council meeting, asked for concrete. The request was forwarded to the committee for study.

Approval would rescind a previous council order designating grading, graveling, curb, gutter and, presumably, a 14-inch-thick asphalt mat.

Committeemen treated the request the same way they handled Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings' request for concrete streets in the residential Riverside plat at the city's southwest limits earlier. They put off a decision until October budget sessions.

Committee Chairman Roy Pointer said it is beginning to look as if the committee will have to outline a paving program for the 1959 budget committee.

Cited as a major reason was inadequacy of this year's $75,000 paving account to pay the city's share of paving projects. The account may be overspent by as much as $20,000.

The committee seemingly regards all the projects as essential and the total amount of work is about average for the last few years. So, the assumption is that a $75,000 paving account will not suffice.

Some aldermen predicted the $75,000 would not do. Last year, they called for a budget of at least $125,000. They were turned down as councilmen faced a $4.50 tax rate hike.

There have been indications money will be just as tight next year. The anticipated surplus from state income tax shares was reduced by about $54,000. Bonded debt principal and interest will increase by about $225,000, enough to wipe out any increased revenues through the annual real estate and personal property assessment hike.

If money is short, history shows there is much resistance to increasing the $75,000 appropriation. If there isn't going to be enough money, some priority of projects—requiring a planned program—will have to be established, Pointer said.

Whether the finance committee would select the projects or the street committee or the council in a committee of the whole, would be a question.

It doesn't take many concrete projects to use up the paving account. The last three, four blocks on N. Oneida street, a block on N. Lawe street and a long block of alley, took about $17,000.

It also doesn't take too many asphalt projects to eat away the $75,000. For example, the year's largest asphalt project — E. Calumet street from S. Oneida street to S. Kernan avenue—cost $24,221 of which $14,851.55 came out of the paving account.

The E. Calumet experience is somewhat exaggerated, since the city could collect no assessments on both sides of the street for long frontages of city-owned property. Generally, the paving account will pay half the cost of asphalt streets in residential areas.

The average cost of asphalt along the long side of an average block is about $2,100.

By council order, an assessment policy to encourage longer-lasting street surfaces has been in force the last two years.

Sonkowsky and Mrs. Stillings say they had the policy in mind in asking for concrete.

Considering the latest concrete bid, the cost in special assessments to owners of newly opened residential property would be about $5.27 a foot for concrete. All work would be complete in a year.

Considering present charges, the cost for grading, graveling, curb, gutter and asphalt mat would be about $5.78 a foot in new residential areas if the work is spread over three or more years, and $4.70 a foot if spread over two years.

The charges for projects working over three or more years toward an asphalt surface are these: $2 for grading; and graveling, 96 cents a foot for added gravel the next or some later year, $1.70 for curb and gutter when the gravel is added and $1, or $1.12, depending on width, for asphalt the year the street is completed.

County Total Down

400th Traffic Death Marked Late in July

Late in July the motor vehicle department on its accident toll statistics the state's 400th traffic death this year.

Outagamie county so far has had five killed in traffic accidents—two pedestrians and three drivers. The toll is considerably less than the nine killed during the same time last year.

A special study of the first 400 deaths disclosed 316 of the victims were male, 84 female. Male fatalities included 173 drivers, 81 passengers, 56 pedestrians, six bicyclists. Female fatalities included 59 pedestrians, 16 drivers, nine passengers.

Of the 400, 99 were under 20 years of age; 100 were 20 to 34 years old; 85 were 35 to 54 years, 96 were 55 to 74, and 20 were 75 or older.

County Tolls
By county, deaths making up the first 400 follow: Milwaukee 38, Waukesha 26; Manitowish 18; Dane and Rock 16 each; Shawano and Washington 13 each; Grant and Kenosha 12 each; Columbia and Sheboygan 10 each; Dodge, Fond du Lac, Jefferson and Wood 9 each; Racine 8, Barron, Brown, Douglas, Monroe, Portage, St. Croix and Winnebago 7 each; Walworth and Waupaca 6 each; Clark, Green Lake, Langlade, Marinette, Outagamie and Ozaukee 5 each; Jackson, Trempealeau and Vernon 4 each; Dunn, Eau Claire, Iowa, Juneau, Lincoln, Polk and Rusk 3 each; Ashland, Bayfield, Calumet, Chippewa, Door, Forest, LaCrosse and Pierce 2 each, and Adams, Green, Iron, Kewaunee, Pepin, Price, Sauk, Sawyer, Taylor, Washburn and Waushara, one each.

These nine counties were death-free: Buffalo, Burnett, Crawford, Florence, LaFayette, Marquette, Oneida, Richland and Vilas.

Increase Coming
"In 1957, 60 per cent of Wisconsin traffic deaths occurred in the last six months, while in 1956 we had 62 per cent of the year's deaths during the last half of the year," said Commissioner Melvin Larson.

"Because the latter half of the year is marked by a 10 to 12 per cent increase in fatalities over the first half of the year, it appears that the first 400 this year will be doubled by Thanksgiving Day," warned Larson.

"We can beat these odds only by refusing to gamble with our lives on the streets and highways," he added. "As motorists, we must drive at controllable speeds. As passengers, we must insist that drivers respect our wishes to remain alive. As pedestrians, we must take steps to keep free from the clutches of death. This means we must cross at intersections, not from behind parked vehicles in mid-block; and when walking along rural highways, we must face approaching traffic, so we can judge when it becomes necessary to step well out of the way of oncoming cars," Larson concluded.

Board to Ask for One Junior High Now; Second in '68

Approved Revised $3.6 Millions,
10-Year School Building Program

Neenah — The board of education will ask the council Wednesday night for a new 750-pupil junior high school for seventh and eighth graders, costing an estimated $956,625, to replace the Kimberly Junior High school.

They will recommend that about 15 acres of property now owned by Arthur J. Kessler on the city's south side be purchased for the new school. The exact location is indefinite, but is expected to be in the general area of Oak street, extended, south of Langley boulevard.

The $956,625 cost is exclusive of land. The board also will advise the council of a stepped-up building program schedule, which includes another 750-pupil junior high school in 10 years.

The new $3,656,625 building program shows five new structures to be erected in the next 10 years. First to go up will be a new school in the Edgewood plat on the far south side, to cost about $500,000 and be ready in September, 1960.

NHS Arts Addition
The new $956,625 junior high school and a 19-room applied arts addition to the senior high school would follow in September, 1961. The applied arts building, which would also house the vocational school, is to cost approximately $600,000.

In September, 1963, a new school is to be ready in the Gillingham plat, west of Highway 41 and south of Cecil

Board to Ask For New Junior High for 750

street. This is to cost about $600,000 also.

Finally, the second new junior high school, costing about a million dollars, for another 750 pupils, is to be ready by September, 1958.

This second junior high school would limit the size of the first one to 750 pupils. The board was considering making the first building expandable to a 1,250-pupil capacity but rejected this proposal Monday.

No Shift to 6-3-3

Also rejected Monday was a shift to a 6-3-3 school system, which would take ninth graders (freshmen) out of the high school and put them into the junior high with seventh and eighth graders.

A new junior high school, built for 750 pupils, would be filled almost immediately if a 6-3-3 plan were adopted. Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes told the board. Over 700 students are expected to be in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades next month, and the number would be higher in each of the next few years, he said.

Mennes said that available facilities and the community's ability to pay for new buildings often determine the educational plan, and that a switch to a 6-3-3 plan now would mean great financial stress on the city.

The time to consider switching to a 6-3-3 plan would be when the second new junior high is in the planning stage, the superintendent declared.

Like Citizens' Report

The board's recommendation to the council Wednesday will be substantially that which a citizens' committee made to the board a month ago. The only exception is that the special committee suggested a new building expandable to take 1,250 students, and the board is asking for a building to take a maximum of 750.

City Tax Refund Falls Short of Expectations

$81,281 Deficit Noted as State Makes Final Payment; Had Expected $600,000

Neenah — This city's income tax refund from the state will fall $81,281 short of anticipated revenues, City Clerk R. V. Hauser disclosed this morning.

Hauser received notice that $283,783 was being returned to the city treasurer from the state, bringing the final total for 1958 to $518,719. The city figured a $600,000 return last December when it computed the 1958 budget.

Hauser said the deficit would definitely hurt city finances for the rest of the year. The money had been earmarked for general city funds.

He offered no explanation for the deficit, but said it might be that not as much money was earned in 1957 by citizens as had been expected, or that there was a large number of late payments which will be refunded later.

The city gets about 38 percent of the income tax paid by its citizens.

In 1957 the city anticipated $545,000 and received $582,002 a surplus of about $37,000.

Boy Falls Under Father's Auto; Chest Crushed

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Robert Bruce Westenberger, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Westenberger, route 2, Menasha, was taken to Theda Clark hospital with a crushed chest after he was run over by a car driven by his father at 4:13 Monday afternoon.

The boy apparently fell from the left rear door of the car as his father backed out of the driveway at their home. The father said he was backing out of the driveway and stopped to allow the child to get in the right rear door.

As he was checking the highway to continue backing up, his wife noticed the left rear door opened and said, "Where is Bobby?"

Westenberger said he felt no impact or bump and didn't know where the boy was until he got out of the car and saw him under the left front wheel.

The boy was taken to the hospital in the Neenah ambulance.

GOP Aspirants Attend Annual Corn Roast

"Rap Van Nelson" Thomson pointed out how Nelson has slumbered for nine years. "He had seven opportunities to vote on the state's building program and six times voted for it," the governor stated. "He denounced the program only when he became a candidate for governor," Thomson said.

School Aid Returned

"We are going to be ready for the increased school population without increasing our indebtedness," Thomson emphasized. He added that $1 million in school aid is returned to local governments from state taxes, or 70 cents on every dollar.

"If we increase our debt level to $148 billion by amending the state constitution as Nelson suggests, we will steal the livelihood of the fixed income man as well as the pensioner," the governor went on.

Encouraged by the enthusiasm displayed, Steinle urged party workers to translate the enthusiasm into action, pointing out that this year there was harmony in the Republican ranks.

United Front

Steinle exclaimed "last year's special election for senator was not a test of strength because Republicans did not present a united front and did not go to the polls."

Honeck reiterated that the campaign was an important one, that voters should start with their senator and go right down the Republican line.

Knowles warned the group that the Democratic campaign for governor "has sunk to an all-time low" in urging the amendment of the state constitution to remove the present debt limitations and deploring the state's building program of college construction, armories, welfare institutions and highways. He has offered to debate the question with Nelson.

Preceding the talk by state candidates, Steinle introduced county candidates. They included Miss Bernice Fuller, register of deeds; Earl Fuller, treasurer; Charles Lowry, sheriff; Jack Steinle, district attorney; William Osborne, clerk of courts; Dr. G. A. Steele and Art Miller, coroner; Harvey Abraham, assemblyman, first district; Joseph Anderson and Floyd E. Schurbert, assemblymen, second district; Arnold Cane and Kenneth Heinz, assemblymen, third district and William Draheim, state senator.

A Walker Hydraulic Transmission Jack has proved to be an efficient "helpmate" at Dan Luebke's Cities Service, corner of Third and Racine streets, Menasha. The station is one of the most complete automotive service stations in the area. Shown above are Luebke (left) and Chuck Hanson at work on a Merco-Matic transmission which has been affixed atop the jack. Automatic transmissions, including Hydra-Matic, Power Glide, Fordomatic and Ultra-Matic, can be repaired in much quicker time because of the Walker jack. This, in turn, means lower labor costs for the motorist who gets his car back sooner. The experienced Luebke, whose background includes nearly 23 years as a mechanic, garage owner and service manager, also offers brake relining, valve and carburetor work plus many other repair services. His assistant, Hanson, has had 15 years experience in the automotive repair field. "About the only thing we don't do is body work," Dan says. All Cities Service quality products are featured at the station including powerful 5-D gasoline and 5-D all-purpose, all weather motor oil. The super 5-D gasoline, finest premium gasoline in the midwest, is perfectly suited for high compression cars. It has extra high octane and is anti-rust, anti-carbon, anti-stalling and is an upper cylinder lubricant. Twin City motorists who are looking for a truly complete station are urged to stop in at their convenience, talk over any automotive problem with Dan or Chuck. A pick-up and delivery service is maintained and motorists may call PA 2-2947.

Think Recluse Devoured by Pack Of Vicious Dogs

Wilmington, Mass. —(AP)— Was Christian Loeffler, 57, a recluse, attacked and devoured by a pack of vicious dogs he harbored?

Acting Police Chief John M. Imbimbo said Monday that evidence indicates the unemployed stonemason, a bachelor, might have been killed by some of the 31 dogs he befriended near his shack in an isolated, wooded section.

A group of Boy Scouts on a weekend hike found a skull and leg bones scattered near Loeffler's shack.

Medical Examiner Thomas P. Devlin of Stoneham said the bones were those of a human. Imbimbo believes the remains are Loeffler's. He points out that Loeffler has not been seen for more than two months.

Last winter, Imbimbo says Loeffler was ordered to get rid of 20 dogs after a pack had attacked a girl astride a bicycle.

And the dogs?

"We combed the area looking for dogs and couldn't find one," the chief says years ago. "But last night, after we had today left, they returned, 31 of them running wild and bellowing at us who knows what."

Citizen Skunked Devoured by Pack By Strange Smell

Stoneham, Mass. —(AP)— A householder phoned Police Sgt. Andrew J. Tunney and said, "There's an awful odor down here. I think it might be gas."

A cruiser and fire apparatus were dispatched to the scene hurriedly. The emergency crew rushed into the place and rushed right out again.

Red-faced, the embarrassed citizen explained he had moved to suburban Stoneham from the city recently and had never before smelled a skunk. During the confusion the skunk disappeared.

Dwarf Statues Taken As Gifts for Friends

Chicago —(AP)— Until lately, Adam Miller's front lawn has been well populated by little men.

Last week, seven of the small folk departed. Miller was sure they hadn't walked away. The 40-pound dwarfs, two feet tall, were all cast of concrete.

Early today, Miller's dog barked with gusto. Peering out of a window, Miller noted that five more of his little men were gone. But he saw two larger figures which were not part of his lawn display.

He fired three rounds from his shotgun, and a car roared away.

Later a policeman stopped Raymond Peterson, 23, for a traffic violation. With Peterson in the car were five conary dwarfs. Peterson and Ronald Wambaja, 22, who was arrested later, were charged with grand larceny.

Detective Jack Hickok said Peterson and Wambaja explained they had planned to give the little statues to their friends.

The Auto as Property

In Milwaukee, where an expensive city government has pushed the level of taxation on real property to peaks more painful than known in most other localities of Wisconsin, a metropolitan studies commission in a mood that resembled desperation has proposed an additional levy on motor vehicles as one means of spreading the costs of government.

We would guess from this distance that this commission, however high-minded and intellectually qualified it may be, consists of political amateurs.

No politician in the Wisconsin Legislature with any savvy would ever attach his name to such a proposition. The evidence of past electoral uprisings is too commanding. It is something that has puzzled many professional commentators of public affairs, but it appears to be a fact that a body politic that evidently can suffer endlessly huge tax bites in many other ways responds with almost blind fury to the idea of taxing the motor car.

The letter columns of the Milwaukee papers were drenched with protests after the commission's suggestion was published. Add $15 for local revenue purposes to the $16 state auto registration fee? Great Scott! Whatever are these radical birds thinking of?

Yet in any typical Wisconsin city, and especially in Milwaukee, the man with a home investment equivalent of a $3,000 automobile will be paying two to three times the tax on that property as will the automobile owner pay on his vehicle as property. So does the merchant who owns a building and stocks, or the farmer, or the manufacturer, or anyone whose possessions come under the annual scrutiny of the property tax assessor.

In an era when householders are accustomed to paying property taxes that would have seemed preposterous only a generation ago, when the income tax bite has become almost piratical and the omens are for even deeper incursions, why should there be such a noisy outcry when it is suggested that the motor vehicle tax that has remained unchanged for a quarter of a century be boosted a little? Can anyone suggest, quickly, any other item that has not changed in price during that period?

We suspect the reason is that there are many persons who own cars, but are outside the taxation system as far as their consciousness is concerned. To the youthful workingman the federal income tax is a little notation on his pay check, only vaguely noticed. To thousands of tenants the property tax is something the landlord pays. Or does the average American, as his critics like to say, love his car not wisely but too well?

When Killers Cry for Help

After six turndowns on applications for reprieve, John Angelo LaMarca was executed in the electric chair last week for the kidnapping of tiny Peter Weinberger who died of exposure in a thicket.

In the final attempt to stay execution LaMarca's lawyer made radio and TV appeals to the public for demonstrations, petitions and telephone calls to sway New York's Gov. Harriman. But there was practically no response. This was a stunning contrast to the hysteria that was whipped up when Julius and Ethel Rosenberg waited in the death cells a few years ago.

At that time the petitioners flocked to the call. Pickets were thrown up around the White House and the home of the presiding judge. Letters to editors of eastern newspapers overflowed the mail boxes. The pleas and demands were of much the same tenor; the death penalty was archaic, such a sentence was cruel and inhumane treatment for the two young sons of the convicted spies, Americans should rise above all that.

Where were these noble sentiments last week? LaMarca also had two small children, and he died just as surely for his crime as did the Rosenbergs. However abominable is the crime of kidnapping of a baby, LaMarca killed only once and by default. The Rosenbergs were undoubtedly responsible through their treasonable activities for the deaths of hundreds and the suffering of thousands.

The Rosenberg demonstrations were the well-planned and executed result of the communist machine, using the fuzziness of humane people for its nasty work. It is something for Americans to remember when they are asked to sign petitions, vote resolutions and join picket lines. Obviously they lose their individuality. They had better know for whom they are working.

Our Heroic Senators

Members of the United States Senate manage to maintain a certain dignity most of the time, but there are occasions when they actually appear childish. Such an occasion arose when the Senate came upon a report that the United States was spending money for the preparation of a report on "when surrender would be advisable rather than to try to continue a war that is already lost."

Since the report had this study tied in with another on "whether the United States can survive and continue to fight after an all-out nuclear attack" the stage was set for an uproarious session of the Senate.

The senators managed to make the meeting interesting, but please note no senator forgot for a moment that his chief private interest is to appear to the voters as a hero, exceptionally brave, ready to defend his country with the finest of oratory. To give this discussion the appearance of an important effort by the Senate to save the land from a jittery military, an attempt was made to have the press and public excluded from the galleries. "But" as the Associated Press story said solemnly, "it wasn't done."

You can be sure it wasn't done. Who can imagine the senators beating their breasts and pledging their last vote to instill courage into the military, in a closed meeting? Why close a meeting in which every senator was free to orate and none could lose an argument for they were all on the same side? Not one dime of the taxpayer's money was to be spent in a study of surrender by the United States and those responsible for the report ought to be fired. The senators were unanimous on that.

How did our senators get into this discussion? Sen. Stuart Symington, a Democrat from Missouri, inserted a newspaper article written by Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Phillips, retired, into the Congressional Record on Aug. 8. The article told of the studies being made on nuclear warfare and on surrender. The article went unnoticed for several days but was finally called to the attention of President Eisenhower. The president is reported to have been curious about the study but thought it was ridiculous.

There had been some vague talk about such studies being undertaken on a scientific basis. It was said that they naturally included all phases of military activity, surrender as well as victory. But the vague talk ended when some of the senators saw a chance to get into the limelight for an evening.

It was a good thing, as it usually is, to have the subject brought out into the open and cleared up. The Russians know now that the United States Senate will never surrender one cent for a surrender study. If any Americans want to surrender they will have to do it themselves; the Senate will not buy them any know-how.

What Others are Saying

Hoover Finds Right Perspective Between Boasting, Fawning U. S.

From the Denver Rocky Mountain News

In international relationships, there are two wrong ways to get along.

One is to brag of our power and opulence, to downrate others, to think ourselves invincible, to always wave a big stick.

The other is to overindulge our critics, fawn over our enemies, blame all our external problems on our own shortcomings.

Americans at times have been guilty of both. Neither way ever solved anything.

It took our elder statesman, Herbert Hoover, to strike the right perspective. In a speech at the Brussels fair, Mr. Hoover delivered an analysis of the American system, the American people and their aspirations which should be a primer for all who would understand us, and for our own efforts to spread that understanding. Hoover spoke up for America, but not in terms of odious comparison with others — merely in terms of the fundamentals which govern us.

"No American," he said, "is so silly as to claim that the rights of man to freedom were discovered in the United States on July 4, 1776."

Yet — "The American method is not perfect, but for 182 years it has sustained stability in our country through every crisis."

"We share the domestic imperfections of all free peoples."

Yet — "Our economic system has 'built-in' impulses of initiative, energy, ambition and opportunity. It has yielded 'stupendous' benefits to ourselves — and enabled us, through the spirit of compassion which permeates this land, to support the freedoms of others and help 'lift the world's burdens of disaster and poverty.'"

The record of a century proves the case. But the record has been distorted and diluted by a vicious propaganda campaign, communist-inspired.

Hoover's insight of his own countrymen was equally keen when he warned that this propaganda, and the abuse and attacks it incites, disheartens Americans and weakens their eagerness for world cooperation. "Forty years ago," he said, "such attitudes contributed to the retreat of the American people behind a barbed-wire entanglement around the western hemisphere."

The danger signal is up again.

City Officials are Conscientious But Traffic Laws are Ambiguous

Editor, Post-Crescent:

You were kind enough to publish a letter, in the 9 August 1958 issue of the P-C, in which I raised some questions regarding enforcement of pedestrian control laws and inquiring who was responsible for not having them enforced. On Monday I received a telephone invitation from Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell to attend that evening's public safety committee meeting to discuss the questions I had raised. Instead of the arrogant, cigar chomping, public-bellied officialdom which may have been inferred by my original letter I was pleased to find a courteous, conscientious group which was completely cognizant of the pedestrian control problem and had been working towards its solution for some time.

City Atty. Don L. Jury and Committee Chairman Ald. Thomas K. Schneider patiently explained the problems involved and the difficulties being experienced in obtaining a solution which would effectively control pedestrian traffic without incurring public resentment. I also learned that I had misconstrued the meaning of the pedestrian control regulation in that the pedestrian is not required to obey the traffic signals but must only yield right-of-way to vehicles which have the green light. Under such circumstances it is impossible to enforce the law for all practical purposes and my inference that a city official had ordered the police department not to enforce the law is unfounded. Any individual or collective raising of official blood pressure over my original letter is therefore regretted.

It is still my belief, however, that the ambiguity of a great many of our laws, with their related difficulty of enforcement, is a contributing factor to delinquency. A law clearly worded and strictly enforced is seldom broken as indicated by the fact that a motorist deliberately going through a red light is rarely encountered even in remote areas. Many centuries ago a man named Moses was given ten laws, simply stated and clear in meaning, which could be an excellent example to present law-makers in clarity and brevity. The fact that many of us break some of those ancient laws frequently, though clearly stated, is probably due to the fact that we do not fully realize that obedience to those laws is left to our own conscience rather than to an enforcement agency and that the cumulative total of those frequent transgressions may be insurmountable when finally reckoned. It is therefore apparent that the human conscience is a poor substitute for an effective enforcement agency when obedience to law is concerned. Our own laws if few in number, simply stated and strictly enforced would, I believe, go far in resolving our delinquency problems.

In my previous letter I mentioned teaching my children how laws are made and that the policeman is their staunch friend and protector. Under present circumstances I will also teach them that as motorists they should be patient and tolerant and as pedestrians they must be fleet of foot.

Looking Backward

Bridge Nearing Completion

75 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 23, 1879.

The new bridge at the foot of Lawe street, connecting with Vulcan street, is now nearly finished.

The contractors will have fulfilled the terms of their contract in a few days. The work is all done except finishing the ends to the bridge. These probably will be finished soon and the bridge will then be opened for general travel.

It is true that it is cheap, but the bridge probably will last for several years.

Wants Cool Card Ticket To Hot Movie

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Ciske-Frassetto-Biese letters are an indication to me that a sufficient amount of public pressure can now be brought to bear to end the frightful conditions that they were written about. You, as editor, are in a perfect position to start that ol' ball rolling. I mean man what are you going to do about those frightful lurid movies? Now here's my 4-point plan:

1. Increase the use of the mayor's Censorship Board. We will call it "The Special Committee on Public Safety" (after all, the lives of our little "impressionables" are at stake). Man I mean lets get after those dirty magazines and books while we're at it! Listen, I've seen some of them and I mean they're lurid, lurid, lurid! 2. Make all teenagers get a card containing written permission before they are allowed to see lurid movies, ("No cool card, no hot movie"). 3. Make all adults who want to read said books and see said movies carry a card on which it is

Getting Name in Print Goal of Campaigners

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Publicity is one of the vital tools of the candidate, as explained in this department earlier, and the citizen who wants to understand public affairs sometimes must learn to read between the lines of the bare dispatches that tell about public men.

When Sen. Gaylord Nelson moves about the state making speeches condemning Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, whom he would like to unseat, he doesn't do it because of the few dozens or even a hundred handshakes he can gather each day. The principal purpose of a public speech by a candidate today is to furnish an excuse for a dispatch in the newspapers, however small. It is the repetition that counts, in the estimate of the practical politician.

Gov. Thomson, or any other incumbent, can reach more people directly because he is in office and therefore is more likely to attract them. But he also plans his publicity carefully and many of his engagements are as directly connected with the press release as with the event that nominally drew him.

SHADING

A careful reader can find out a good deal about the politicians, by watching their press agency.

When a legislative committee on conservation affairs which carries on its rolls a couple of nervous candidates for reelection to the assembly announces in the middle of the summer heat and during the height of the campaign when these men ought to be busy at home that it is holding public hearings on popular fish and game subjects, it means that the members want some favorable publicity.

When a legislator who has been friendly toward the attested by Those Who Know that the carrier is of sufficient moral stature to withstand the temptations of luridality. 4. Erect a walled by-pass around theaters so that shoppers with children won't have to answer embarrassing questions about lurid advertisements.

It is as simple as this: 1, as someone once said, "Vice is bad;" 2, all Communists, many foreigners, and most moviegoers like vice; therefore 3, they are bad! As the saying goes, "Let the good not tolerate the bad." Therefore let those of us with the private pipeline to righteousness start now to stamp out the lurid where'er it may be found. Come on folks — lets make this national!

David E. Hansen
22 Bellaire Ct.
Appleton, Wisconsin.

conservation department during his entire political career suddenly starts uttering cruel criticisms of the department, it means that he is using the department as a political foil and hopes that its officers will understand the necessities of his position.

The candidate in a heavily industrialized district who talks almost exclusively about what he will do for the farmer if he is sent to congress is saying, quite plainly, that he is pretty sure of the organized labor vote but wants to cut into the rural vote which holds the balance of power.

Generally, the news service editor who handles these anxious bulletins in bundles each week can pretty well determine, from reading them, what the politician is worried about and what he is trying to do to resolve his difficulties as he sees them.

Timing is a test of the skill of the publicity seeking politician. Good timing can overcome even the hard-headed reservations of copy editors. A heinous murder in Wisconsin tomorrow, as an easy example, would find half a dozen politicians scrambling to get into print first with a promise to sponsor capital punishment legislation. They would forget about it later, of course, but it would be a publicity bonus for the moment.

There are booby-traps for the over-eager and unwary. The credulity of the voter is exaggerated sometimes by the inexperienced or the excessively bold. The country is full of experts who claim to know when the decline of the late Joe McCarthy first became visible. His 150 part of parity proposal is as good a landmark as any. Rep. O'Konski got a hearty guffaw only last year when he pretended that his bulky campaign chest was made up of the unsolicited small change contributions of veterans. There are those who will say that the economy promises of Sen. Proxmire are equally ludicrous.

Aside from its practical value in catching the eye of the voter, publicity has its own rewards for the politician. To many, it is as meat and drink. I remember watching with some curiosity, in a Madison hotel lobby many years ago, one of the state's most successful political artisans paging through a newspaper with astonishing speed.

"I've learned to read fast," he acknowledged. "I'm looking for my name in the headlines."

Jet Planes Too Fast for Dulles

From the New York Daily News

Secy. of State John Foster Dulles remarked wistfully that he rather dreads the upcoming jet passenger plane, which "gets you there so fast you don't have time to rest on the way."

Our guess is that there are plenty of others who feel as Dulles does — meaning we think passenger ships and trains have a long future and a reasonably prosperous one, because so many people like the freedom of movement aboard a ship and the opportunity to see the scenery at close range from a train.

Enrollments Change Rank Of Colleges

Oshkosh Expected To Be Biggest
Of State Schools

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Increased enrollments at the ten Wisconsin state colleges have made all of them bigger and also have changed the rank of the schools with respect to size.

When the new school term begins next month, it appears fairly certain that Wisconsin State college at Oshkosh will move to the top of the list to displace the college at LaCrosse.

Enrollment projections used to calculate biennial budget requests show that the schools will have about 14,628 students during the next academic year and 16,386 during the following year, the regents were told here.

Oshkosh will probably have 1,938 students during the new academic year and during the subsequent year will have more than 2,000. It will be the first college of the system to top the 2,000 mark.

LaCrosse Second
LaCrosse will rank second with 1,879, it is expected. Whitewater will be third with 1,739 and Eau Claire fourth with 1,703.

Last year Oshkosh was second, Whitewater third and Eau Claire fourth.

E. R. McPhee, director of the college system, reported to the regents that appropriation requests from the colleges for the next two years are about $7,000,000 above present spending level, which would mean a total request of about $24,500,000. The budget requests, however, must be reviewed by the regents and by the governor-elect next November and December, before they are transmitted to the legislature that will convene next January.

To Your Good Health

Dr. Molner Suggests Ways Of Breaking Smoking Habit

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have never seen this subject discussed in your articles. My husband, who is 60 years old, has a persistent cough. (He has smoked almost all his life.) This keeps both him and me awake nights. He is also constantly blowing his nose and I mean hard. Doctors have told him he must cut down on smoking, if not cut it out, but he will pay no attention.

"I tell him blowing his nose so hard is a strain on his ear drums. It also seems to me his hawking and spitting must cause a constant irritation in his throat. If you can't convince him, you might be able to tell me how to prevent a nervous breakdown myself. I can't even listen to a TV movie without losing the thread of the story by being constantly interrupted."

Mrs. B. — Pretty stubborn fella you have for a husband. What does he need to convince him? There are lots like him, though, who just don't have the fortitude to do what's obvious—quit smoking.

I refuse to plead guilty to failure to discuss this problem. I've written about it, including such tips as I know for cutting down on tobacco, or giving it up.

First Weeks Hardest
The first couple of weeks are the hardest, because the body develops a very slight addiction to tobacco, and it takes about that long to clear the system.

After that, it's just a matter of breaking the physical habit of reaching for another smoke. Usually the habit is far harder to break than the mild addiction.

Another doctor has noted that smokers usually are shallow breathers — if the reasons for this have been discovered, I don't think I've ever heard them. At any rate, the idea is that this shallow breathing brings an urge, periodically, to breathe deeply. Well, haven't you ever noticed the way a chronic smoker takes the first puff — a deep inhale?

Some people, when they have quit smoking and feel an am emotionally upset I get cramps and a feeling of weakness in my limbs. Could nervousness cause a feeling like this?—M.M.?

Certainly. Nerves and countless other things can cause this. To each his own kind of nervous reactions — some large, some small. I don't know anybody who can explain the "why" of it, any more than we can explain why you laugh at funny things, cry over sad ones, and feel your heart pound when you're excited.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it an old wife's tale that thumb sucking can change the shape of a child's teeth?—T.R."

No, not an old wife's tale. It is perfectly true — but I don't mean the casual amount of thumb sucking (or finger sucking) that most children go through. If it continues, it can shift the tooth position to a marked degree.

Big Sardine Catch May Mean Return of $20 Million Industry

Monterey, Calif. — For the first time since 1952, a large catch of sardines was made in Monterey bay Monday and J. B. Phillips, Hoper to Mr. and Mrs. Anton L. Muggenthaler, a lot in Appleton.

kins Marine station biologist, said this might mark the return of a warm water cycle ideal for sardines.

A dozen boats, a third of the sardine fleet that once numbered more than 100, brought in 450 tons.

There was optimistic talk of a possible return of the $20 million a year business that employed thousands of workers in a score of canneries 10 years ago.

Wisconsin's Thrift Lauded By Governor

Well Balanced, Wholesome Economy Prevails, He Says

Neenah — Wisconsin has a well balanced and wholesome economy and great strides have been taken in the state's educational and industrial fields, Gov. Vernon Thomson told a gathering of Twin City Republicans Monday.

The governor said the state had a $17,000,000 surplus at the end of the last fiscal year and has been paying its bills on a pay-as-you-go basis. "Paying bills on schedule is a good philosophy of government," he maintained.

"At the beginning of the last fiscal year we were confronted with an increased school population and more elderly people to take care of. Some people were asking for more money while others were urging us not to increase taxes.

"To accommodate both sides a committee made up of leading industrial figures from throughout the state was formed and it offered suggestions to save money and try to increase efficiencies. We also saved millions of dollars by terminating agencies which had outlived their usefulness," the governor pointed out.

Attract People
The former mayor of Richland Center told the audience you can't attract people and industry to the state if there is a continuous tax increase.

"Those looking for a new location for an industrial plant or home are going to investigate a state's policy in the tax field. We've got to see taxes aren't constantly going up," Thomson stated.

He explained that the state had spent millions of dollars over the years promoting its dairy products, fishing and recreation facilities while never expending money to tell people what it would be like to live and work in Wisconsin.

Now we have a division of

Menasha Man Charged With Neenah Attack

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Ronald Budweiser, 27, 394 Walnut street, Menasha, was charged in municipal court today with assault with intent to do bodily harm by a 35-year-old Birmingham, Ala., woman who is visiting her sister in Neenah.

Arraignment was delayed until Thursday when Budweiser asked for time to consult an attorney before entering a plea. Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger set bond at $300. The alleged offense took place on N. Commercial street in Neenah near the old Chicago and North Western freight house about 8:30 Sunday night.

Youth From India Talks at Church

The Junior fellowship held a wiener roast Sunday evening at the Tim Stellar home. The Married Couples club of the church will meet Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roth, route 116, west of Omro.

The dedication of the new pulpit and communion table will take place at the Sunday morning worship services.

Keith Thompson and Lloyd Smith are attending Senior Bible camp at Camp Tamarack, Waupaca, this week.

Industrial development which is promoting the state as a good place for industry to settle. By attracting industry we'll also get more workers and home owners, the former state attorney general said.

State Sen. William Draheim, 19th district Republican, introduced the governor, who was a guest of the Neenah Republican party at a noon luncheon at the Valley Inn. Dave Martin was chairman of the luncheon.

Lady Luck Kayoes Las Vegas Casino

Las Vegas, Nev. — Lady Luck turned thumbs down on the house at one of this gambling resort's plush casinos, forcing a brief closing.

The management said a series of heavy winners had depleted funds at the Tropicana hotel yesterday to the extent that it was feared another exceptionally lucky patron could not be paid.

So the Casino closed. The dice started rolling again a few hours later, however, after the owners deposited additional money in the treasury.

Marriage Annulment Sought by Actress

Los Angeles — Movie actress Barbara Lang wants to annul her 1956 marriage to TV actor Alan Wells.

Congressman Very Much Alive, Despite Harvard Class Report

Washington — Election to congress really isn't the same as dying. At least, Rep. Winfield K. Denton (D-Ind) is trying to convince his former classmates that it isn't.

Denton was glancing over a copy of the 35th reunion report of the Harvard Law school class of 1922 when he was very much surprised to note that he was listed amongst those who had died.

So Denton, a hearty 61, fired off a letter to Morris E. Dry of New York, secretary of the class reunion committee, to tell him it isn't so.

He noted he has been elected to congress four times, and speculated that "maybe some feel that when one enters on those duties he is no longer among the living."

Committee Okays Bill to Deny Passports to Reds

Washington — The house foreign affairs committee unanimously approved today a bill to empower the state department to deny passports to persons who knowingly have furthered communism.

Rep. John W. Vorys (R-Ohio), co-sponsor with Rep. Armistead Selden (D-Ala.) of the 11th-hour measure, said he hoped for speedy congressional action.

Vorys said the bill would give the state department temporary authority to deny passports for U. S. reds who otherwise would get them under a recent supreme court decision.

The committee, meeting in closed session, turned down proposals that would have required the state department to disclose in court the information on which it bases a passport refusal.

Vorys said the disputed passport question may be considered more generally in congress next year.

Meanwhile, he said, the state department will have power to withhold passports from the alleged 336 reds and fellow travelers who have applied for them since the June 16 court decision.

Chilean Politician Escapes Injury From Acid Hurler in Crowd

Santiago, Chile — An unknown assailant threw acid last night at presidential candidate Jorge Alessandri but the politician escaped injury.

The acid hurler was among about 200 persons who tried to break up a parade by the candidate and his supporters following a political tour in southern Chile. Police drove off the attackers and arrested two of them.

The acid hit some of Alessandri's aides, burning their clothing.

Hatred, Fear Predominate In Jordan

Many Observers
Doubt Hussein
Will Last Long

BY REINHOLD ENSZ

Nicosia, Cyprus — "Visit the Holy Land" says the poster in the censor's office in Amman, Jordan.

The phrase evokes thoughts of good will. But there is little of that in the Jordan part of the Holy Land today. Hatred and fear are the emotions of the hour.

"I have never seen the Jordanians so tense," says a longtime resident of the Hashemite kingdom.

He was referring to the gripping problem of Jordan's King Hussein and his government. There seems little doubt Hussein would have been toppled soon after the Iraq revolution if British paratroopers had not landed in Amman.

Now, despite the troops, Jordanians are asking themselves: How long can he last?

Given 8 Months
"I give him about eight months, even with the troops here," says one experienced western diplomat in Amman. "Something has to give sooner or later."

Hussein hasn't been able to combat the compelling calls for Arab unity which issue from Nasser's Cairo. Nor has he been able to do much about the poverty that grips his desert land.

Jordan is a country that has no industry and no oil. Its boundaries, carved out artificially after World War I and by the Arab-Israeli war, have left it without a Mediterranean seaport or much of anything else that a country needs.

Hatred of Jews
About half a million Arab refugees from Israeli-held territory are crowded into Jordan, living on United Nations handouts.

"The Middle East problem will never be eliminated until the question of Israel is solved," is a sentence that drops readily from Jordanian officials. The same feeling, put more bluntly, comes just as readily from other, less cautious Arabs.

"There can be no peace in the Middle East," say these Arabs, "until the Jews have been pushed into the sea."

Former Welfare Worker
In Appleton Receives Scholarship for UW

Robert Barry, former Appleton resident, resigned as child-welfare worker for the Manitowish county public welfare department to take a scholarship for postgraduate social work at the University of Wisconsin.

Barry was a case worker for the Appleton apostolate and worked on the Outagamie county children's welfare board.

His scholarship was awarded by the Wisconsin state department of public welfare. His work will lead to a master's degree.

Man, 38, Denies He Looked in Windows

Virgil Persons, 38, 1032 W. Elsie street, today denied a charge of disorderly conduct and posted $200 bond for trial Oct. 1.

Persons was charged after he was caught by neighbors in the 1000 block of W. Bell avenue as police investigated reported window peeping. A resident said he saw Persons looking in a window and caught him after a short chase. He was turned over to police.

Persons has faced the same charge before and voluntarily underwent psychiatric treatment within the last year, records indicate.

Children's Story Hour

Miss Janet Meili, children's librarian, will tell "Harry, the Dirty Dog" and "George" at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon during the Appleton Public Library's weekly story hour for children.

Poisonous Plants, Snakes Dangerous on New Guinea

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Speaking of the poisonous liana plants in New Guinea, a bold explorer named Charles Miller reported:

"The elm-shaped leaves are tinted a delicate green, but the welts they raise when brushed across the skin are a brilliant scarlet. The poison burns like sulphuric acid, and two minutes after you tangle with the vines, you feel as though every red corpuscle in your body had caught fire."

Other plant pests exist in New Guinea, and among them are certain kinds of bamboo. These have a fuzzy coating on the stalks. The fuzz causes a burning sensation when it touches the skin.

Venomous snakes like to hide in bamboo clumps. Among these are cobras with poison which may kill a man in less than a minute.

Q. Do the Papuans of New Guinea have any religion of their own?

A. Many of them pray to spirits. One spirit, Monoin, is supposed to live in forests. Another, Narwoji, has his home in the clouds. A third is believed to be the maker of storms.

There are natives who practice black magic. These men carry bags of fetishes around with them. One such bag was found to contain leaves and herbs, also the feet of frogs, the wings of bats and several small human bones.

The Papuan magicians have a cruel way of striking their enemies. In the dark of night, they place venomous snakes near sleeping persons.

Q. Do Papuans play musical instruments?

A. They have a few crude musical instruments, chiefly Papuans swing from tree to tree while crossing areas blocked on the ground by masses of shrubs and vines.

drums. As in Africa, drum beats carry messages through the wilds.

Q. Does New Guinea have interesting birds?

A. There are many birds of paradise, also bower birds, parrots and cassowaries. Cassowaries are distant relatives of ostriches.

YMCA Opens Pool For Outside Groups

The YMCA swimming pool will be open to outside groups on Friday nights at 7 o'clock, 7:45, 8:30 or 9:15. Mickey McGuire, health and physical education has announced.

4-County Bond Purchases Reach $3,682,809

E and H bond purchases in Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca counties amounted to $3,682,809 in July. The month's total for the state was $9,981,586 boosting first seven month sales to $65,194,357.

A breakdown by counties shows Outagamie at $1,279,294 for 56.9 per cent of its year's quota; Waupaca $345,026 or 44.9 per cent; Winnebago, $1,841,920, or 78.1 per cent; and Calumet, $216,569, or 49.9 per cent.

Harold F. Dickens, director of the state bond program, has announced Wisconsin has attained 58.6 per cent of its 1958 goal of $111,200,000.

YMCA Committee, Board Plans Campout

YMCA camp committee members and the board of directors will study facilities at the new wilderness camp on a weekend camp-out session, Philip Ottman, committee chairman, said.

The men will leave Friday night for Sea Lion lake in Florence county where they will study future road and building possibilities and facilities for wells.

Ottman is in charge of arrangements.

Young Adults Club Will Attend Races

Members of the YMCA Young Adults club will attend stock car races Thursday night and hold a watermelon party after the races.

The club will leave for the state fair at Milwaukee at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The camping trip scheduled for Sept. 6 has been postponed.

58 Swimmers Pass YMCA Tests in July

A total of 58 members of YMCA progressive swimming classes passed tests in July.

Mary Roemer passed the flying fish test, and Sarah Ogline, James Carnes, Eddie Sager, Jan Redlin, Larry Einspahr and Michael Ziemann passed the fish test.

Return of Controlled Mind Beating Men Into Pattern, Says Sokolsky

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York — What is happening before our eyes are not only gigantic political and social changes but a restoration of the controlled human mind so characteristic of primitive society. It is like a conductor standing on a podium, directing an orchestra; he indicates a quiet, slow movement for the violins and so it is; he flails his arms, screws up his face, purses his lips, and the orchestra plays to a roof-shaking excitement.

Everybody has seen motion pictures portraying natives in Africa or in South America getting up an excitement before performing some ritualistic act, with the tom-tom beating away and with everybody singing and shaking their bodies in unison. I have often wondered when I looked at such pictures what would happen if a body shook the wrong way. Would they kill and eat the savage?

Today, such men as Khrushchev and Nasser and Mao, and there are others, beat the brains of men into a stilled conformity. There is a song of hate, eternal, unrelenting, relentless hate. While the targets of hatred are not always the same, they maintain a steady tom-tom over the radio. In the Arab countries, it works itself into a will to kill. Nasser's radio is an assassination stimulant.

Even Worse in West
This beating of thoughts into the minds of men by radio becomes even more dangerous in western countries where human beings have accustomed themselves to believe that they think for themselves. The repetition of word images, like the jingles in commercials on television, has the effect of making men believe something which might not be so.

How many times have you heard the phrase, "atomic age"? "In this atomic age," thunders the orator. So what? Do people not love? Are children not being born? Do we have three eyes instead of two? Precisely how has "this atomic age" affected man, his conduct, his habits, his morals, his ordinary relationships?

Last year, it was the "atomic age." This year it is the "space age." Maybe next year, it will be the "moon age." But men are still honest or avaricious, truthful or liars, learned or mentally blocked, smart or dumb, with gradations in between. These word images, however, fasten themselves to our memories and we live not with the realities but with the images. In time, we actually believe that one kind of aspirin does more than another kind, or that one detergent is superior to another. But which one and why?

Back to Tom-Tom
When men stop asking why, they stop being civilized. When they sit comfortably in a soft chair, a trap of barbed wire before them, with a glass of what is called beer to add zest, watching a female sell a cigarette or a cosmetic, and believing every word of it or thinking "how could she dare say it," then we are back to the tom-tom. Sen. Barry Goldwater, in correspondence with a publisher about an article he did not like, wrote:

"He, (the author) ignores the fact that many union members are forced to join unions because of union shop agreements. I have always felt that the use of union funds collected under these circumstances for political purposes constitutes a denial of freedom of political activity and is morally objectionable. Even where union membership is not compulsory, social pressures are often so strong that only the most rugged individuals can resist pressures leveled against them."

Mass Coercion
What Sen. Goldwater objects to is mass coercion, another curse of our times, although not quite as bad as the tom-tom. Some call it conformity, which is a bad word, because some persons may enjoy external conformity, such as dressing for dinner, or not picking their teeth at the table, or perhaps saying "thank you!" when one should. One can easily accept a code of manners while rejecting an enslavement of the mind.

Too many of us are forced to join groups and to accept group action, group authority. This is an inevitable aftermath of wars, but it is about time that free men rebelled against mass coercion.

When a student tells me that he lies on examination papers because he knows what the professors want him to say, I am tempted to say that he ought to blacken the professors' eyes, because there is no education unless it opens the mind to freedom of thought and divergences of thought.

Catholic Students to Ride Public School Buses in Connecticut

Newtown, Conn. — Pupils at Catholic schools in two Connecticut towns will be able to ride hereafter in public school buses.

Residents here voted 1,243 to 1,218 Saturday in favor of such a plan. A week before, adjacent Brookfield approved the bus plan, 502 to 305.

They were the first two referendums held in the state under a law, passed last year by the general assembly in a close vote, that allows individual towns to decide whether to authorize tax-paid transportation for children who attend private, non-profit schools.

In Connecticut, children who attend Roman Catholic schools make up the largest single group to which the law applies. The state has 421,659 public school pupils, 70,810 Catholic school pupils.

State Atty. Gen. John J. Bracken plans to rule this week on whether towns such as Newtown and Brookfield may get state school transportation grants for parochial students.

Public School Plans For Opening Complete

Kimberly Faculty Still One Short Of Being Filled

Kimberly — Plans for the start of Kimberly High school and Kimberly Public grade school have been completed and the teaching staff is complete with one exception, according to John R. Gerrits, superintendent of schools.

Freshman registration will be at 9:30 in the morning Aug. 26, thus giving teachers an opportunity to get acquainted with incoming students and talk over the year's work. The first part of the registration program will deal with acquainting the student with the work an courses offered by the school.

Programs for the year will be made out and members of the faculty will explain the debate, music, forensic and athletic programs. All prospective freshmen will be required to bring their eighth grade diplomas for registration.

Seniors wishing to talk over the program for the year or change scheduled classes will have the opportunity to do so by reporting to the school office in the morning Aug. 26, 27 or 28.

Start of Classes

Kimberly schools will open Sept. 4 with an orientation period planned on Sept. 2 and 3. J. P. Mann, superintendent of Appleton Public schools, will open the orientation period with a talk on the gifted child. The balance of the two days will be spent in a work shop on setting up extra courses for talented students, according to Gerrits.

Eight new teachers have been added to date, seven for the high school and one in the grades. Still needed is a girls physical education teacher in the high school.

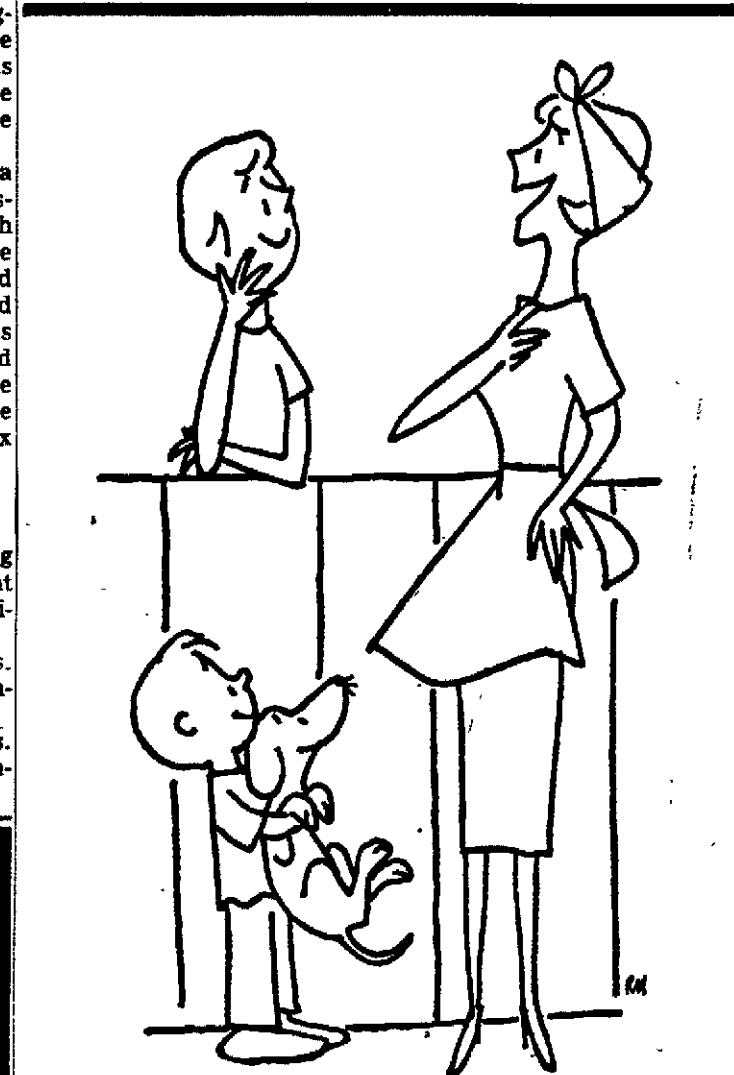

New instructors in the high school are Phillip Gocker, commercial; Edward Kmio-

"Me save money? I never thought I could until.."

Mrs. Hill was the type of person who absolutely couldn't save a cent, until . . . one day she went over to a friend's house to see her newly modernized kitchen. Her friend explained how she had managed to save the money for it. She merely put aside quarters out of her change, and put the money in a savings account. Her husband was so pleased by her efforts he even added extra dollars to the account. It wasn't long before they were both raving over their new kitchen which not only contributed so much to the convenience and happiness of the family but also increased the value of the house.

A lot of people like Mrs. Hill, who never thought they could save a cent, have found out that it's easy to save money once they open a savings account with our Association. To get the things you want, why don't you open a savings account today at our Insured Savings and Loan Association.

Youths Pay $50 For Driving Side by Side

Seen by Police Checking Reports of Rural Drag Racing

Two youths were fined $50 and their driver's licenses were revoked for 30 days after they were arrested for driving side-by-side on County Trunk G for about a mile near Seymour Friday evening.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede stayed revocation of their licenses on condition neither is arrested for a moving traffic violation during the next year.

The youths are James O. Hillegas, 20, 230 N. Morrison street, and Vernon Kemp, 21, route 2, Seymour. Both were charged with reckless driving and will be charged six points against their driving records. County police were investigating complaints of drag racing at the time but said Hillegas and Kemp were not drag racing.

Marvin C. Baerenwald, 20, route 1, Clintonville, was fined $50 for driving 90 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone and six points were charged against his driving record. He was arrested by county police when they were investigating complaints of fast driving on Highway 156 in Nichols.

No Crash Report
Miss Nancy Simon, 16, West DePere, was fined $15 and her driver's license revoked for 30 days for failing to report an accident. She was charged after her car left a town road on Oneida Sunday, broke off four fence posts and tore down 50 feet of fencing, county police said.

James E. Sommers, 19, 1347 W. Summer street, was fined $35 and his driver's license revoked six months for driving 52 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone in Appleton. Revocation was stayed if Sommers isn't arrested for a traffic violation for a year. The offense will cost him six points. Charged three points each for speeding were:

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state labor board has directed elections be held to determine whether employees of the Verbrick-Esler Amusements, Inc., Appleton, and the Esler-Ampleton Hotel corporation, Appleton, want Local 414 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International union to act as their bargaining agent. They also will decide if they favor an all union agreement between their employers and that organization.

The state agency said the election will be held in the next 30 days.

Around Home...

Robert Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sanders, 817 W. Lorain street, isn't quite 5, but he's already figured the angles. He asked his mother why some men go into service and others don't and if he'd have to go off to war when he grew up. Mrs. Sanders explained that some are physically unfit, some have dependents and are not called for service, etc. Robert thought it over and decided, "When I grow up, I'm going to get myself a married wife."

Entry was gained by breaking a window on the west side of the building and opening a latch. The burglars left through a small door on the north side, which had been locked from the inside.

Rabies Shots for Dogs Won't Solve Problem, State Veterinarian Says

Vaccination of all dogs in the city for rabies would not solve the problem and is not feasible now "because of citizen resistance," State Veterinarian Dr. Harry O'Connell believes.

An intensive educational program directed toward voluntary vaccination of household pets would do more for solving the problem, Dr. O'Connell says.

A report of Dr. O'Connell's beliefs was filed with Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell Monday by Dr. E. H. Jorris, assistant state health officer.

The report was in response to an inquiry from Mitchell after a trio of veterinarians asked the city to pass an ordinance requiring vaccinations for dogs before dog licenses are issued.

The city board of health endorsed the vets' plea and recommended the action to the council. Council action was deferred at the request of Ald. Kenneth Priebe who said he wanted more time to study it.

A county-wide ordinance, also advised by the vets and recommended by the city board, probably would cause many difficulties, Dr. Jorris said.

State law, he explained, permits the county board only to enact such legislation for territories outside cities and villages. The cities and villages must pass their own code and enforce it, he said.

"In addition," said Dr. Jorris, "you would have the problem of many uninformed persons objecting to a compulsory vaccination program."

A chart listing reported rabies cases in Wisconsin so far this year shows 115 from skunks, 11 from dogs, 4 from coons, 3 from cats, 6 from foxes and 1 each from bats and swine.

Determine Reasons

"Research studies," the doctor said, "are being conducted on a nation-wide basis to try to determine the reasons for the high incidence of rabies in certain species of animals in certain areas, so that some practical plan can be devised for controlling the disease in wild animals. The wild animals are, without doubt, the source of infection for rabies in dogs and other domestic animals."

A annual vaccination of dogs," he said, would stop the dogs from infecting man, but do nothing about protecting man from the wild animals and "most people now treated for rabies have been bitten by some wild animal."

Driver, 24, Fined $200

Nathan Ritchie Also Sentenced to 60 Days For Ten Violations

New London—Nathan Ritchie, 24, 417 Waupaca street, who pleaded guilty Monday of driving without a driver's license and was fined $10 and costs, was fined an additional $200 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in the Waupaca county jail this morning when he pleaded guilty of 10 separate traffic violations.

He pleaded guilty of: Operating a car without the owner's consent, drunken driving, five counts of ignoring stop signs, driving on the wrong side of the street, failure to stop for a squad car, and speeding.

He was arrested early Monday morning in New London after a long chase by New London police. Ritchie got credit on his sentence for the two days he spent in the New London jail.

9-Year-Old Boy Struck by Auto

Danny Lee Wilz, 9, route 1, Menasha, was taken to Theda Clark hospital, Neenah, after being struck by a car driven by James L. Aglin, 17, Potter, one-fourth mile west of the intersection of Highways 114 and 10 about 2:30 Monday afternoon.

Danny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wilz, same address, suffered a broken leg, a possible broken hip and pelvis, and bumps and bruises. The accident occurred in front of the Wilz home.

Operator Has Hand Pinched in Machine

Donald Burmeister, 29, 1228 W. Spencer street, injured his left hand about 11:30 this morning when it was pinched between the guard and roll on the paper sheeter he operates at the Appleton Coated Paper company.

He was taken to Appleton Memorial hospital, where he was in the emergency room, by Lindy's ambulance. The extent of the injury was not known.

The machine cuts paper.

Property Owner Appeals City Lot Size Requirement

August Lieske, 1344 W. Spring street, is the first city landowner to appeal the 10-month-old ordinance requiring at least 5,000 square feet in a building lot.

Lieske will go before the board of building appeals at 7 o'clock Monday night, Sept. 8, Building Inspector Walter Bogan said today.

Lieske wants to build a house at the northwest corner of W. Winnebago street and N. Bennett street. He would violate no city laws except the one requiring 5,000 square feet of land per house. Lieske's lot, Bogan said, has about 3,700 square feet.

The city council passed the ordinance for the last time on Oct. 5. It had been recommended by the planning commission and was aimed at preventing the subdividing of larger building lots to squeeze in an additional lot and home.

17-Year-Old Faces Court Action After Church Disturbance

A 17-year-old youth faces juvenile court action after he was locked up in the Appleton jail for causing a disturbance Monday afternoon and evening at Trinity Lutheran church, S. Oneida and W. Lawrence streets.

Police said the youth fled when detectives tried to question him and was caught after a chase in the downtown area. Among his exploits, the youth told a minister that he wanted to be saved and it had to be done in the next two hours. Police added that the youth had been drinking.

The boy is awaiting court action on an escape earlier this year in which he broke windows, tore off an aerial, damaged the hood and let the air out of tires on a car in the northwest section of Appleton. The boy is from California and came here after his marriage.

The disturbance at the church Monday included several fights between the youth and others, police said.

Speechmaking Out for Model Railroaders

Pittsburgh—Delegates to the annual convention of the National Model Railroad association opening here Friday are in for a surprise—there'll be no banquet speaker.

"I've attended all the conventions we've had and some of them got awful boring," said Edward R. Campbell, local chairman of the group. "We decided to cut it (speechmaking) out."

Instead of the usual round of meetings, delegates will see manufacturers' displays, go sight-seeing and take trolley, train and boat rides.

STEELS, SOME AUTOS RISE

Rebound Comes After Setbacks Of Last Two Days

New York—(U—) Steels and selected motors passed a moderate stock market recovery early this afternoon.

Key stocks rose from fractions to a point. A few issues did better.

It looked like a technical rebound to Wall Street analysts who noted fairly steep setbacks of the last two market sessions and the sizable correction of the last two weeks from 1958 highs.

Steels had the advantage of a rising production rate and better demand.

Studebaker - Packard and American Motors were in brisk demand but the major automakers were mixed.

Market Mixed

Aircrafts, nonferrous metals, tobaccos, rails and utilities did well.

The market was mixed at the start. Trading became very low. Then turnover increased as prices moved forward.

U.S. Steel and Republic Steel were up about a point each. Allegheny Ludlum rose past a point. Lukens was about two to the good.

Studebaker - Packard and American Motors added sizable fractions.

American Telephone, Kennecott and Aluminum Ltd. were up about a point.

Lorillard, United Aircraft and International Paper also were one-point gainers.

U. S. government bonds were off slightly.

Set Trial for Check Charge

Trial has been set for Oct. 9 for Kenneth L. Faubel, 34, no permanent address, who has denied falsely endorsing a $46 check which he admitted stealing.

Faubel was charged after he took a check made out to Universal Contractors, 1338 W. Prospect avenue, from a woman and cashed it. Faubel formerly worked for the contracting firm and the check was in payment for a chimney repair job.

Faubel also faces trial Sept. 9 on a charge of representing himself as an agent of Universal to get $3.74 worth of gasoline from a filling station.

Faubel was sentenced Aug. 7 to 60 days in the county jail for stealing the $46 check.
